Chinese Ring Indian Outpost

Reports Say No Fighting Occurred

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government said today Red Chinese troops have "appeared in the vicinity" of an Indian outpost on the disputed northeast frontier but said "there has been no clash."

Unofficial but reliable sources said an estimated 300 Chinese soldiers invaded Indian territory Tuesday and surrounded a post a mile inside the Himalayan border manned by 30 men of the Assam Rifles.

There was no indication of any fighting. One unconfirmed report from the northeast said the Chinese disarmed the Indian troops and advanced nine miles farther into India.

A spokesman for the foreign ministry announced:

"Some Chinese forces have appeared in the vicinity of one of our posts in the area of the tri-junction of Bhutan, the Northeast Frontier Agency and Tibet. There has been no clash."

Conflicting unofficial reports indicated the Chinese might be pressing toward Towang, an important Buddhist monastery town 15 miles inside the border. Three years ago the Dalai Lama, fleeing from the Red Chinese across the 14,210-mile-high pass from Tibet, made a stopover at Towang.

The Chinese Communists claim the Northeast Frontier Agency's 36,000 square miles—a mountainous, largely unsettled area—be- long to Tibet. India maintains the border is the McMahon line, drawn by the British along the peaks of the Himalayas.

The Chinese also claim 12,000 square miles of Ladakh, a bleak and barren plateau near the western end of the Chinese-Indian border. There have been at least four skirmishes there this summer. Ladakh on Indian maps is part of the state of Kashmir.

Chinese troops have entered the Northeast Frontier Agency seven times in the past six years but withdrawn each time. Three incursions were in the same area just east of the mountain state of Bhutan where the Chinese entered Tuesday.

Students Sign Up 400 Prospective Dates

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It's registration week at the University of California at Los Angeles. So it wasn't surprising when 400 coeds checked in at a campus table where a sign proclaimed: "Frosh Women Register Here."

The table was manned by two 19-year-old students, Steven Chodos and Fred Fryden.

Each of the coeds was asked to sign her name, address and telephone number.

The table and the young men had nothing to do with registration. It was just their way of getting some female phone numbers.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gubernatorial candidate James A. Rhodes beamed today over Republican state convention endorsement of his programs to create jobs, build "Golden Age Villages" and help juvenile delinquents.

The state auditor hinted at more campaign proposals by asserting that the party platform provides "for the presentation of additional bold and imaginative programs to keep Ohio moving."

Convention delegates adopted the 1,500-word platform and heard state and national speakers lambaste Democrats at a one-day session Wednesday that filled most of the 3,000 seats in the RKO Palace theater.

"The principal issue in this election is whether Ohio will have a government which will encourage, promote and assist the economic growth of this state so that more jobs are available at good wages, or will have a government whose sole solution to public problems is to spend and spend and tax and tax," a section of the platform read.

National Republican Chairman William E. Miller of New York climaxed the speaking program by criticizing the Kennedy administration for what he called the administration's backing away from the Cuban situation to avoid "hurting the feelings of Latin American countries."

Sharing the speaking program with Miller were Rhodes and John Marshall Briley of Toledo, nominee for U.S. senator. Candidates for state offices, congressional and legislative seats and

Sanders Wins Governorship Of Georgia

ATLANTA (AP)—Carl E. Sanders, a bold young man who entered the race last April while veteran politicians scoffed, has won the governorship of Georgia by derauling the comeback drive of an old political warhorse, former Gov. Marvin Griffin.

The 37-year-old state senator, making his first bid on a statewide basis, called it a great victory not for himself but for the people of Georgia.

Sanders had 360,095 votes and Griffin 208,507 in returns from 1,213 of the 1,826 precincts in Wednesday's Democratic primary.

Three other candidates drew a smattering of votes.

This was the first popular vote primary in Georgia in 54 years.

9 Die In Crash Of Navy Plane

Pilot Veers From Residential Area

SEAL BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A Navy P2V Neptune patrol bomber skimmed over rooftops of a heavily populated residential area Wednesday night, then crashed in flames at the naval ammunition and net depot here. The Navy said all nine aboard were killed.

The dead were reservists from Georgia, the Navy said. Identification was withheld pending notification of relatives.

The plane took off from Los Alamitos Naval Air Station, about three miles north of the depot, and crashed a short time later in a vacant field used for storing empty ammunition crates some distance from ammunition deposits.

Several witnesses said they saw the plane, trailing a long ribbon of flame, veer to the northeast in what appeared to be an attempt by the pilot to keep aloft until the bomber cleared the residential area.

The depot at Seal Beach, 28 miles southeast of Los Angeles, replenishes the fleet stationed at the Southern California bases of San Diego and Long Beach. The ammunition is kept underground.

The 5-foot-5, 115-pound beauty is a truck driver. She helps her dad drive a 50-foot, 15-ton refrigerated tractor trailer over the country carting fruit, vegetables and eggs.

Jerilyn Chilcott, 20, from Auburn, Iowa, and her father, Mild Chilcott, came into town toting 600 cases of eggs. While they were in a diner, someone made off with 20 cases (7,200) of eggs.

A detective accompanied Jerilyn outside the station house. There was a huge tractor-trailer. Jerilyn hopped behind the wheel and deftly backed the vehicle into a narrow space between two other large trailers in the Washington Market area. Her father stood by and beamed.

Said Jerilyn: "We take turns, Daddy and I, each driving four hours at a stretch."

Jerilyn is the youngest of five sisters—no brothers.

She didn't argue when her father told newsmen: "She's smarter than most girls, except when it comes to boys. She's never had a date, never danced or went to a party."

Detectives are looking for Jerilyn's missing eggs.

GOP Senators Press Tougher Cuban Stand

Reserves Call-Up Bill Sidetracked

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's request for standby authority to muster 150,000 reservists has run into demands by Republican senators for tougher and more specific action.

The Kennedy request has breezed along, carried by a harsh wind from Cuba, and Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana planned to ram it through the Senate today after a quick debate.

But a flurry of GOP amendments, calling for strong action against Cuba or against any other Communist moves, has been tossed in the works and may brake the measure's momentum.

Faced with new proposals, Mansfield sidetracked temporarily the call-up bill. Instead of putting it at the top of the agenda, he scheduled in its place the $500-million mass transportation bill.

Evidently he hoped to use the time to work out a procedure for jettisoning the amendments from now, possibly by sending them to the Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees for later consideration.

Mansfield said he still expects the Senate to approve the stand-by authority before quitting time tonight.

The measure would permit President Kennedy to call up 150,000 members of the ready reserves without a declaration of a national emergency. Under present law, the President can mobilize up to 1 million members of the ready reserve if he declares an emergency.

Administration sources said the request for the authority was prompted by the international situation without singling out specific areas.

But indications were that the President was more concerned with the Berlin situation than with the Communist flow of supplies and men to Cuba.

But it has been Cuba—and Soviet threats over the Communist outpost—that has attracted most of the fire in Congress.

Wednesday Secretary of State Dean Rusk assured a joint session of the House Foreign Affairs and Armed Services committees the administration would not tolerate having Cuba become a base for offensive action against the United States or any Western Hemisphere area.

On the House side today, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was scheduled to testify for the reserve measure before the Armed Services Committee. This group recently criticized the Pentagon's handling of the call-up during last year's Berlin crisis.

On another front, a State Department spokesman said the United States is investigating a claim by an anti-Castro organization that it was responsible for a machinegun attack on three vessels in Cuban waters.

The organization calls itself Alpha 66 and says its headquarters are in Puerto Rico, a U.S. territory.

Lisbon Board Plans School Open House

LISBON—The 14-room addition at McKinley Elementary School will be open for public inspection Sunday afternoon, Sept. 30.

The open house date was set at the Board of Education meeting here Tuesday. Supt. Oliver H. Payne met with the board for the first time as head of the school system.

The board authorized resumption of fifth and sixth grade football, with Robert Firestone, junior high teacher, as coach. Booster Club members will assist. Uniforms and equipment were purchased several years ago.

Principal John Lewis of Lincoln School was authorized to assist with varsity football after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Head Coach Edwin (Bud) Bucher made the request.

In other business, the board voted to:

Discontinue fund-raising drives in the schools;

Buy a new small tractor for mowing and snow removal at an estimated cost of $600;

Award to Camp's Service Co., Salem, the contract for black-topping the McKinley School parking lot for $2,383; and Confirm employment of Miss Grace Todd of Lisbon as a first grade teacher at McKinley. Miss Todd retired in 1961 after many years in the Lisbon system.

2 Men Treated For Wounds At Hospital

Mahoning County deputy sheriffs are continuing their investigation of a reported shooting Wednesday night near New Middletown. Details are lacking.

Treated at Salem City Hospital at 10:45 p.m. but not admitted to the hospital were James Stanley, 23, of Box 338, New Middletown, and Ronald Stanley, 27, of General Delivery, East Palestine, hospital records show.

James was treated for puncture wounds to the head and chest and James for wounds to the hand and wrist.

Powell's Junket May Be on Him

House Group Won't Approve Vouchers

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., spent any appropriated funds on his recent tour of Europe, he may run into difficulty trying to get reimbursement.

Powell, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, returned recently from a trip to Europe with two women members of the committee staff. His trip ostensibly was made to study the European Common Market and equal job opportunities for women.

A spokesman for the House Administration Committee, through which vouchers dealing with expenditure of appropriated funds by traveling congressmen must pass, said Powell's committee has no authority to travel abroad at the taxpayers' expense.

Early in the present Congress, the House Rules Committee and the House itself approved the customary resolution authorizing Powell's committee to make studies and investigations of matters within its jurisdiction.

While equip pay for women is within the committee's area, matters stemming from the European Common Market lie in the jurisdiction of the House Ways and Means Committee.

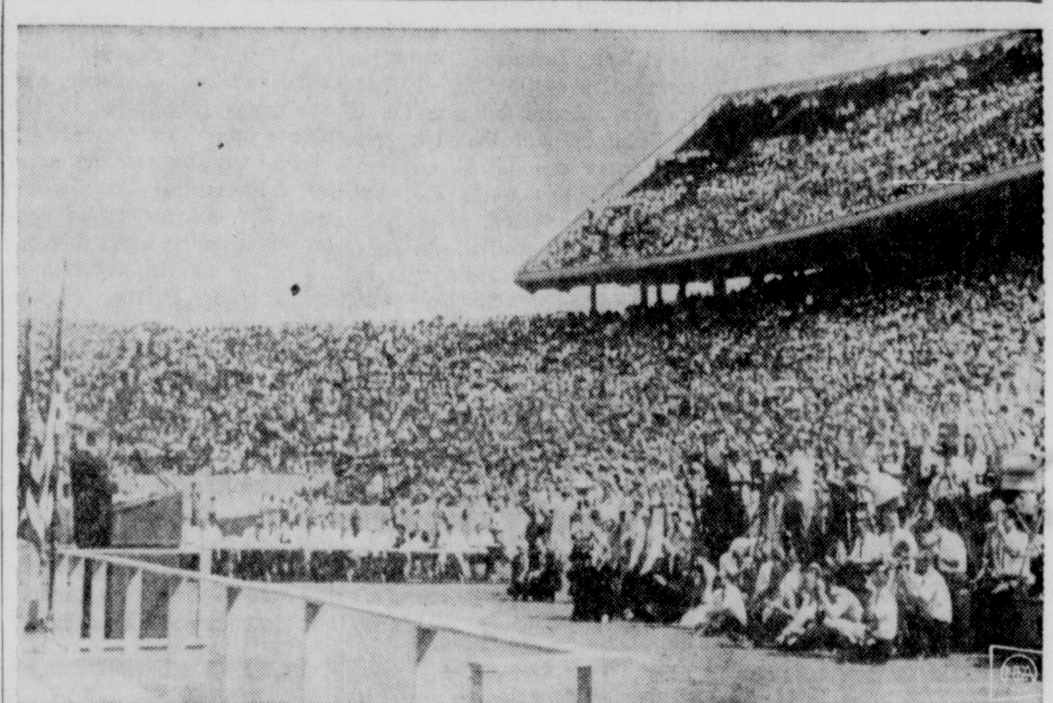

The resolution that gave Powell's committee investigatory authority confined its activities to the United States and any of its commonwealths or possessions. It did not authorize travel to foreign countries.

The Administration Committee spokesman said the committee cannot approve for payment any vouchers that Powell may submit covering expenses not paid for or of counterpart funds. Counterpart funds are foreign currencies owned by the United States and made available to traveling congressmen by the State Department.

Firm's Counsel Withdraws From Case

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals, seated Wednesday at the Columbiana County Courthouse, had to continue the Lisbon Salesbook Co. cases because the Pittsburgh-owned firm was not represented.

Atty. William B. Moore Jr. of Lisbon, counsel for the Salesbook firm since its indictment last September on a charge of printing numbers books, withdrew as counsel last week.

The cases came before the appellate court on the state's appeal from Judge Joel H. Sharp's opinion that the state's anti-gambling law is unconstitutional as it applies to the manufacture of books used in the numbers racket.

Atty. General Mark McElroy led a raid on the W. Maple St. printing plant Sept. 6, five days after the effective date of a new law making the printing of numbers books a felony.

Atty. Moore withdrew because he has not been paid for his services, he said. He represented Salesbook and four individuals indicted separately for printing numbers books.

2 Brothers Indicted In Securities Fraud

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two Cleveland brothers have been indicted on charges of collecting $186,000 in the fraudulent sale of securities owned by their brokerage firm.

The 25-count indictment returned Wednesday by a federal grand jury named S. Brooks Johnston, 50, and C. Gilman Johnston, 44, former owners of Johnston & Co. Last March the Securities & Exchange Commission revoked the company brokerage registration after a long series of hearings on its operation.

The indictments against the brothers charge that they sold 10,374 shares of stock at $10 a share and $62,400 worth of debentures that could be converted into stock to 146 men and women in metropolitan Cleveland and in Columbus.

The sale of securities occurred between April 1961 and continued through last January, it was charged. The brothers said their company was making money that would make the securities good investments, but the firm then was losing between $5,000 and $15,000 a month, one indictment said.

The indictments contain 20 counts charging fraud in the sale of the securities, four charging fraud by mail and one charging conspiracy.

They were based on evidence presented by U. S. Attorney Mrl M. McCurdy.

S. Brooks Johnston was president of the company and his brother was vice president-treasurer. The company was founded in December 1960.

Kennedy Firm On Space Plans

Determined U.S. Will Take Lead

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has returned from a two-day tour of major space installations, determined the United States will be first in space and have a man on the moon by 1970.

The President also made clear during the exhaustive inspection tour ending late Wednesday at the McDonnell Aircraft plant in St. Louis, that he intends to press his challenge to Russia to reserve outer space for peaceful purposes.

At the plant Kennedy got a close-up view of the work being done on Gemini spacecraft designed to orbit two men up to two weeks in space in another year or so.

Possibly the highlight of the tour came earlier in the day at Houston where five of the seven astronauts, along with scientists, briefed him on the space ships designed to take an American to the moon and back. He chose the city, site of the manned spacecraft center, for his only formal speech.

Speaking to 50,000 people under a boiling sun in Rice University Stadium, the President declared: "The eyes of the world and its restless millions now look up and out to space, to the moon and the planets beyond. And we have vowed that they shall not see it governed by a hostile flag of conquest, but by a banner of peace."

Promising that outer space will not be filled with weapons of mass destruction, Kennedy said, "The vows of this nation can only be fulfilled if we in this nation are first—and therefore we intend to be first."

Of this nation's lunar ambitions, Kennedy said: "We choose to go to the moon in this decade." This, said Kennedy, is a challenge "we intend to win."

Kennedy also gave short talks to officers and employees at the spacecraft center, again at St. Louis and Tuesday at the Army

Researchers Use Cleansing Chemical To Prevent Smog

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A possible lead towards achieving victory over "smog" by introducing a cleansing chemical into the atmosphere of smog-plagued cities was reported today.

A team of Lockheed researchers said they had achieved abatement and even prevention of smog—in laboratory experiments—through the use of iodine as a "chain-breaker" of the molecular chain producing the irritant air mixture that bedevils certain cities such as Los Angeles.

They stressed in a report for the 142nd national meeting of the American Chemical Society that the findings—resulting from a three year study—represent only the results of relatively small scale laboratory tests.

They added that a number of questions still remain to be answered before determination can be made whether the iodine method can be employed in solving air pollution problems on a practical scale.

Lockheed's Dr. William F. Hamilton, who presented the report for the team, said the big question to be answered is whether there would be poisonous effects to human and other life from the reaction products resulting from introducing the iodine into a smoggy atmosphere.

However, he indicated there are some encouraging straws in the wind on that score, including:

1. Past investigations have indicated that trace amounts of iodine already in the atmosphere—in some cases in concentrations higher than in the Lockheed tests—produced no ill effects.

2. The three-decade history of iodine production in a California chemical plant lists no toxic reactions nor sensitivities among employees—even though concentrations of iodine vapor encountered daily greatly exceed the amount anticipated for smog abatement.

Tshombe Claims Clash Triggered By U.N. Troops

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—President Moise Tshombe says a new clash between United Nations troops and gendarmes of his breakaway Katanga Province has destroyed his faith in the U.N. plan to unify the Congo.

The suspicion arose that Tshombe was using the incident as a pretext to prolong his secession.

Claiming U.N. Indian troops triggered the clash Wednesday and killed two of his gendarmes, Tshombe told newsmen the incident was an imbecility "coming at the moment when I and my ministers were examining the U.N. plan."

U.N. officials said the Katangans fired first and denied there were any casualties.

A delegate at U.N. headquarters in New York expressed belief Tshombe faked the casualty claim as a pretext for rejecting the U.N. plan to bring his province and its mineral wealth under the authority of the central Congo government. U.S. officials in Washington expressed similar views privately.

Tshombe showed newsmen the bodies of a gendarme corporal and a private at an Elisabethville morgue, claiming they were killed in the clash. He charged U.N. troops opened up with machine guns after ordering his men away from a roadblock near the U.N.-controlled Elisabethville airport. "If the United Nations want war they can have it," Tshombe said. "It won't be child's play like (the U.N.-Katanga flareups) last September and December."

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Fingertip towels make ideal placemats for small children (and adults too). They absorb any spilled milk and are easily laundered with no ironing necessary. They make great cloths for a wee baby. Place one over your shoulder and it protects your clothes from a sour bubble that will happen to the healthiest baby.

When rolling biscuit dough, place the dough on waxed paper — bread paper is ideal. Saves much cleaning up.

When washing your walls (smooth plaster), use your sponge mop. Amazing how much climbing up and down it saves. You are more eager to rinse it oftener too.

Saves climbing up and down to reach the high places and you can also use much hotter water and more concentrated solutions of cleaner.

MRS. J. L. DEAR HELOISE: To make donuts that don't lose their shape when you fry them, try this: After you've cut them out, place each donut on a square of aluminum foil slightly larger than the donut itself.

When ready to fry the donuts, drop donut, foil and all in the fat. When fried, pick out the foil with a pair of tongs.

You will have perfect donuts every time and you can use the foil over and over again.

One of the hardest parts of bathing my one-year-old child is washing her hair without getting shampoo on everything. Now it's easy!

I got one of those fancy big sponges. Before I start her bath I pour the shampoo on the sponge. Then it is a simple matter to rub the sponge on her hair. There is no shampoo running in her eyes to cause trouble and absolutely no chance of dropping a slippery bottle in the tub.

MRS. BARBARA SHINROCK DEAR HELOISE: Here is a good trick when cooking outdoors and you have forgotten your scouring pad. Wad up a bunch of aluminum foil, making it into a ball. Clean the pan as usual. Works every time!

Steel Firms, Executives Seek to Plead 'No Contest'

NEW YORK (AP)—Three steel companies and two executives asked permission in Federal Court Wednesday to plead no contest next Monday to an anti-trust indictment charging a conspiracy to fix prices in the sale of open die steel forgings.

If the court accepts the pleas it can fine the companies up to $50,000 each. The individuals would be liable to a similar fine and up to one year each in prison.

The three companies are U.S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Co. and the Erie Forge and Steel Corp., Erie, Pa.

They were indicted last April 26, along with four other steel companies, on charges of conspiring between 1948 and 1961 to fix prices and rig bids in sales of steel forgings to the Army, Navy and various companies. They originally pleaded innocent.

A plea of no contest (nolo contendere) is made with the court's permission and permits imposition of penalty without an admission of guilt by the defendant.

The two executives pleading no contest were Emil Lang, board chairman of Erie Forge, and Homer Lackey, the firm's president.

In Washington, the Senate Judiciary Committee conducted a hearing Wednesday on the advisability of obtaining cost production figures from the nation's big steel firms. The committee is considering whether to support a contempt of Congress move against executives of Bethlehem, Republic, National and Armco Steel for refusing to show up with the requested figures.

Did We Lose Power to Act?

Every revival of interest in the Monroe Doctrine becomes part of the continuous education of Americans in their problems of self-government.

It is being learned in connection with the return of the Monroe Doctrine to the Communist takeover of Cuba that the original doctrine has been all but absorbed into collective inter-American agreements forbidding unilateral action.

This was recognized by both political parties in their 1960 platforms. The Democrats said, "Nor will the United States, in conformity with its treaty obligations, permit the establishment of a regime dominated by international, atheistic communism in the Western Hemisphere." The Republicans said, "Faithful to our treaty commitments, we shall join the republics of the Americas against any intervention in our hemisphere, and in refusing to tolerate the establishment in this hemisphere of any government dominated by the foreign rule of communism."

This was political double-talk to reassure Latin Americans that the United States would be mindful of its treaty commitments and obligations. These all say the same thing in effect — that the United States and its American neighbors will consult and act mutually; that the United States will not act on its own decision against any Latin American nation.

The government will be mindful too of a diplomatic problem that has plagued U.S. State Departments throughout this century — that many Latin American leaders are more afraid of the United States than of a remote threat of communism, even when the threat comes as close as Cuba. While the original Cuban revolutionaries appear to have been swallowed up in a counter-revolution as completely as the original Monroe Doctrine seems to have been absorbed into a policy of nonintervention, many Latin Americans still believe Fidel Castro earned gratitude by saving Cuba from Fulgencio Batista.

Of all the things the United States might do to discourage communism in Cuba, if any threatened to complicate Latin American relations, it would be considered carefully and probably rejected for that reason.

Life In the Midst of Decay

"The Decay of New York" was the title of a New York Times editorial last week that closed with this statement:

"Our parks are a No Man's land after dusk; muggings throughout the city are a commonplace. Is the hope at City Hall that, if things get bad enough, we will eventually qualify for grants under the Alliance for Progress?"

Elsewhere in this remarkable outburst of municipal confession, The Times pointed out that a dedication ceremony for four rehabilitated buildings on West 94th St. had to be canceled because police could not guarantee the safety of Mayor Robert Wagner and other city officials in broad daylight.

"Equally dismaying," said The Times, "was the announcement that 80 newly enrolled members of the Peace Corps were being assigned to a month of work in the city's slums to prepare them for the privation and neglect they will find in the poverty-racked districts of various cities in Colombia. New York's slum-dwellers are thus put on a par with migrant workers, whose exploitation long has been a national disgrace."

Here is the problem of urban decay in its most malignant form. In New York City the deterioration of physical safety has been so rapid in the last few years that natives of the city have been unable to move out of neighborhoods fast enough for their protection.

Pedestrians are warned not to walk alone after dark on certain streets. Women are unsafe in many neighborhoods. Mugging is so common that burly male policemen are masquerading as women to try to put some slight fear of capture into the minds of gangs of toughs that roam at will.

It is interesting that The Times is coming to grips with the problem. It is particularly interesting in cities that have grown tired over the years of invidious comparisons with the great metropolis—the advantages it offered—the excitement of being able to live there among the towering buildings, the crowds, the drama.

And the "decay," gently adds The New York Times.

Albany Should Go to Coventry

Some leading lights in Albany, Ga., race strife should visit Coventry, England.

When the Germans took out their spite on the Coventry Cathedral in World War II, demolishing it with fire bombs, they hastened their defeat.

British resistance toughened. International resistance grew stronger. The Western World was shocked by savagery that made it seem logical to destroy a historic church with no military significance.

When the call went out after the end of the war for funds to rebuild the Coventry Cathedral, help was forthcoming from all parts of the world. Many nations contributed money, material and skilled workmanship. Even the Germans, as an act of atonement, came to Coventry to clear the ruins.

and to erect on the site a hospitality center for visitors.

The new Coventry Cathedral is a massive memorial to contrition as well as a beautiful tribute to faith. If a delegation from strife-torn Albany were to visit it now, they would find themselves among thousands of visitors with the same solemn thought — that men who burn churches to take out spite have transcended the bounds of human decency and flouted the spirit of Christianity.

It will never be proved, of course, that two churches in the Albany area were burned to frighten their Negro congregations. They may have caught fire by accident. It will be no accident, though, if contributions pour in from all over the United States to rebuild them. A burnt church calls for atonement if there is a suspicion of intolerance about its destruction. The suspicion exists in the Albany area of Georgia.

Always Best Policy

The man who returned $40 taken from the fire-damaged Town Hall Diner nearly three years ago needs no commendation for correcting the error of his ways. Honesty is its own reward, as the old adage goes.

Good waiters are a blessing in a restaurant unless they happen to be customers.

Fitted for a Noose

By Truman Twill

You might feel better too after reading "What's 'Right' and 'Left' — a Guide for Responsible Anti-Communists."

Perhaps you also have felt sick about the prospect of lining up with one set of bullies to fight another set — the stupid choice that destroyed Germany when it fought the Communist conspiracy by joining the Nazi conspiracy.

Freedom House, an organization of liberal, moderate and conservative leaders who support democratic principles, points out in "What's 'Right' and 'Left'" what you may have discovered in your own investigation — that extremists of any stripe who try to put people under their thumbs are to be feared.

"We emphasize that the Communist conspiracy is a counter-revolutionary movement on the reactionary right — the totalitarian twin brother of Fascism and Nazism," declares the Freedom House report, which urges opposition to all extremists who support either communism or the reactionary "right" because they both stand for tyranny.

Instead of being in the middle, where we usually are represented as being, all of us who genuinely respect human freedom are grouped against those who have no real respect for the individual and therefore assume the right to tell him what he must think and do.

In actual truth, if we believe the individual has the inalienable right to make his own decisions and think his own thoughts we are as far to the "left" as anyone ever can be, even though we may think of ourselves as "conservatives."

We are "liberals" in the classic sense; i.e., we believe absolutely in human freedom and are therefore completely opposed to every proposition that denies it as the first and foremost human right.

We do not care what people call themselves. All we watch for is what people do. If they start to reach for the whip, if their first move is toward our throats, they are despots at heart.

It's so simple yet so hard to understand. Sometimes it seems as though experience counted for nothing in human affairs and each person and each generation had to learn to its own sorrow the symptoms of despotism.

Each would-be despot wraps himself in the cloak of what he isn't; there's no acceptance anywhere for despotism. But why despots can fool their intended victims is as hard to understand as the wolf's ability to fool Red Riding Hood. Obviously the kid was stupid.

Stupidity can destroy freedom. But freedom can be preserved if all people who genuinely cherish it for others as well as for themselves would work harder to penetrate the disguises of despotism.

Does the would-be despot believe in strong-arm tactics? Does he want to smash something to save something? Does he believe in thought-control? Does he want to tell other people what to say and what to believe? Is he careless about the rights of others when he claims to be defending his own? Does he show a weakness for the big lie in stating what he proclaims to be the big truth?

Watch out. Your neck is being fitted for a noose.

U.S. Strangely Silent on Russian Build-Up In Cuba

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Nearly two weeks have passed since the news was given out that the Soviets had begun an arms buildup in Cuba. The United

David Lawrence
Government has taken advantage of America's silence and has filled the broadcast waves of the world with one propaganda blast after the other, characterizing President Kennedy's call-up of reserves as a provocative action.

The latest accusation actually turns the tables on the United States and warns the Washington government that it must not do anything in Cuba to interfere with the Castro government's policy of acquiring Soviet arms. The claim is reiterated that Cuba is arming for "defense."

President Kennedy thus has given away a propaganda advantage by appearing to accept the Castro and Soviet arguments that the supplying of arms and the sending of "technicians" are simply for "defensive" purposes.

It's a puzzle just why Mr. Kennedy chooses to forfeit the initiative in propaganda. Time was when the American government uttered its protests through formal diplomatic channels and made them public in situations comparable to the present controversy over the Soviet buildup in Cuba.

THE ACTION of the Moscow government not only affects the Monroe Doctrine as a policy but is directly related to America's own security. To place missile pads and missiles in Cuba, which is just 90 miles away from our own shores, is an act that can be construed as hostile to the United States. Yet the administration prefers to say nothing by way of formal protest.

The seriousness of the situation is not diminished but actually increased by the failure to make any protest before the world. Unfortunately, the Soviets may come to believe that they have successfully bluffed the United States into silence, and they may take further chances in the cold war.

Moscow in its latest outburst even hints at a nuclear war if the United States does anything about Cuba.

The impression in Washington is that the administration has all along been afraid of "increasing tensions" by saying anything to Russia about the Cuban buildup. Still, the Soviets do not mind increasing tensions by their propaganda statements.

These could be regarded as of little importance if they were merely part of an exchange of words between the Soviet Union and the United States. Unhappily, the propaganda is circulated all over the world.

The peoples of Allied as well as neutral countries can thus be influenced to believe that the United States is afraid to speak out and is being shoved into a corner by the aggressive pronouncements of the Soviet Union.

THE ADMINISTRATION has known for a long time about the Soviet arms buildup in Cuba. On Sept. 2, the United Press International in a dispatch from Washington said:

"A State Department spokesman said:

"The announcement doesn't seem to represent anything new. We've been saying right along that the Soviet Union has been sending military equipment and technicians to Cuba."

The American people were not told officially about this until about two weeks ago, and there is no public record that the United States has filed any protest with the Soviet government concerning the arms buildup.

Naturally, the Soviets would construe this as an acquiescence and would be inclined to increase their military buildup in Cuba and begin to send arms to other parts of Latin America which they are planning to infiltrate through agents already on the job.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-SC, referring to some of Mr. Kennedy's recent statements, said the other day in the Senate:

"The President's comments indicate strongly that the Monroe Doctrine recently has been reinterpreted with major omissions to the extent that the Monroe Doctrine is no longer a bulwark of U. S. foreign policy which it was for over a hundred years."

In Congress, members of both parties are restive and uneasy about the apparent surrender of the initiative to the Soviet Union.

AUTHORITY to call up 150,000 reserves has been overwhelmingly endorsed, but this does not overcome the feeling in Congress that the United States is being portrayed over the airwaves as afraid to stand up to the Soviets.

Paul Nitze, assistant secretary of defense for international affairs, in a television interview last Sunday, really summed up the situation. He wasn't trying to be critical of the administration and, in fact, was endeavoring to defend it. But he unwittingly stated the case against the administration's policy of silence when he said:

"I think the grounds for concern are, first of all, that this assistance the Soviets are giving Castro makes it more difficult for the Cuban people ever to restore their freedom, and, secondly, this helps Castro consolidate his position in Cuba and thereby might increase the possibility that Cuba could be used as a base for communist infiltration into the rest of the hemisphere."

Yet nothing has been said officially for the last several months to the Soviet government in protest about all this.

Let's Cut Cuba's Supply Lines

By VICTOR RIESEL
Cuba's waterborne supply lines can be cracked with the stroke of a pen!

What's needed is a presidential directive shutting United States ports to vessels and ship chartering companies which deal with the enemy. This means a blacklist. Why not?

There are many foreign firms now making millions of dollars from the United States government itself by carrying heavy tonnage of federal cargo across the world. And yet these same ships—lists of which any federal agency can get along this waterfront—not only supply Cuba, but Communist China, Russia, Poland and even weird Albania. This foreign flag ships often embark on immediately after delivering American cargo abroad.

Thus, not only do the foreign vessels strengthen our enemies but they weaken the United States by depriving our seamen of jobs and our shipping firms of profits.

TANKERS of our NATO allies, for example, have been running Soviet oil to Cuba for many, many months now—long before the Soviet landings on the island needed some of us into an outcry over the current merchant fleet supplied to the Soviet bloc by nations to which we have been giving billions of dollars. Those tankers are chartered by the Russians because the Soviet Ministry of the Maritime Fleet is short of these big floating fuel tanks.

The tankers, owned by Greek and British firms, or by complex companies operating under Panamanian, Liberian, and Honduran flags, first deliver the Russia oil to Havana. Then the empty tankers put into U.S. ports for profitable cargoes.

This may be cut down some day. The Soviets have just completed the "Bureharest." This is the fifth in a series of huge tankers which they call "Peking" vessels. They have been built in the Leningrad "Baltic shipyards."

So desperately does Cuba need this fuel that it has become traditional for the Soviet ministry to put its new tankers immediately into the Cuban run. But still there are not enough. Yet ships of our "friends" continue to help them.

THEN THERE ARE the ship operators who get business from the American government because of our efforts to feed a hungry non-Communist world.

There is a federal directive which states that only 50 percent of our shipments of surplus foods to needy nations must be shipped in United States "bottoms." So, to lend a hand and a dollar to freighters of friendly nations, we give them the cargo job.

Many of these foreign flag ships carry grain to the Orient.

Sometimes to India. Sometimes to Africa or the Near East. Then they steam into the China Sea and the Pacific. There they shuttle back and forth for the Peiping Communist government. In Hong Kong recently I talked to masters and mates of such ships.

They disclosed that after handling some of the "Chi-com" business they heave back to Europe's Communist block ports. There they load up with heavy cargoes for Cuba. Of course, they carry armaments. But almost as vital are the vast quantities of pre-fabricated factories and plants, machine tools, spare parts, steel mill sections and electronic equipment.

These will create a Soviet-type industrial system in Cuba. In a few years it will begin producing for export to the South American market—thereby undermining local producers and therefore chances for recovery amongst our Alliance for Progress allies.

AFTER THE NATO nation ships unload in Cuban ports they have only one chance for a new payload there. That is sugar. But sabotage and sheer inefficiency have slashed the harvesting of this crop. So there is only enough for part of the chartered supply fleet.

The ones who get the loads then steam to Russia and Poland or through the Panama Canal to China. But all the other vessels face going back "light."

Thus many of them, after dropping their Red Cargoes in Cuba, head for the United States to make certain they can pick up a paying shipment and thus make a profit from both sides.

There are waterfront union leaders here who say they have evidence that the Yugoslav merchant fleet is running cargo for the Communist bloc. This cargo, they say, is mostly military. It comes from the Czech munition-making complex built around the famed Skoda works. Waterfront experts report that Yugoslav ships regularly put into Havana.

FURTHERMORE, the union leaders assert bluntly—sometimes in anger fully peppered with sailor's language—that the State Department has all this information. And that it has had it for some time.

Why then does everybody in official circles seem so surprised these days?

Why not blacklist those ships which make a dollar out of trading with enemies who already are shooting at American soldiers, sailors and airmen? Why not?

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

18 years of loyal service. Maybe your husband needs a saliva test.

Welcome Mat Out

Dear Ann: Several members of our family live out of town. When a visitor arrives from another city, she is supposed to call up the people she wishes to see and say, "Hello, I am here." Or are her friends and relatives supposed to call her and say, "Welcome" when they learn she has arrived?

We are an informal group and there has been no trouble among the relatives so long as I can remember. But now a certain party has married into the family and this problem has come up. She has been in town for three days and has not called anyone. We would like to entertain her but if I'm not mistaken she is supposed to call those of us she wishes to see. Am I right or wrong?—LAURA.

Dear Laura: The out-of-town-er is indeed supposed to take the initiative. However, this is not a crime punishable by solitary confinement. Some people are actually unaware of this point of etiquette. So it would be gracious to call her and say, "Welcome."

Closed Door Policy

Dear Ann: My problem concerns my bachelor son who is 31 years old. We share a lovely two-story home. On the second floor is my bedroom and sitting room. Clifton's bedroom, which is also on the second floor, has an adjoining library with a built-in cocktail bar.

He has no special sweetheart, but prefers to date two or three young women a week. He often brings them home to dinner. Some of his female companions are charming and well-bred. Others are cheap and unladylike. I never comment.

A few weeks ago Clifton started something I don't approve of. After dinner he invites his girl friend to see his quarters on the second floor. The door is closed and that's the last I see of them. When I told him I didn't think this was proper he replied, "I'm not a teen-ager, Mother. This is my home, too."

Am I old fashioned? Is he right? May I hear from you?—MR. S. METHUSELAH.

Dear Mrs. Methuselah: Clifton should have his own apartment if he wishes the type of privacy which a closed door suggests.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Who Wants It?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Science is excited about the future of machines that talk.

Cooler heads are more concerned with what the machines will have to say. They also raise the question of whether the potential market for mechanical talking machines isn't rather small.

To many of us, a verbal robot falls pretty much in the same category as a talking horse, bird, dog—or wife. When you've heard one, you've heard 'em all. The first feeling of astonishment quickly gives way to ennui as you discover their vocabulary and observations are, on the whole, limited and repetitive.

For example, the world-record feathered conversationalist was probably "Sandy Pauls," a yellow, brown-beaked budgerigar, which died in Middlesex, England, in 1959 at the age of 7.

This talkative bird—it will surprise few to learn that "Sandy" was a female—could speak more than 300 different words and recite 12 nursery rhymes.

A cursory glance at the latest edition of "Bartlett's Quotations," however, fails to find that "Sandy" ever said anything truly memorable. And how many days in a row would you like to be awakened by a brown-beaked budgerigar squawking "Mary had a little lamb," or "London Bridge is falling down"?

It is quite likely, of course, that science can come up with a metallic talking machine with a really large vocabulary, one capable of making original remarks and perhaps even able to give us sound advice.

But, again, who really needs it or wants it?

People have a built-in resistance against taking sound advice, and they resent cleverness and wit in others. Any electronic wisecracking robot that tried to be the life of a cocktail party would quickly be silenced by having sand flung in its gears, or gin poured down its vocal hinges.

There might be some value in a talking machine that would listen to what we had to say, but restricted its own conversation to phrases of agreement and encouragement.

Sample sentences:
"I feel exactly the same as you do about the whole matter, but I could never hope to say it as well."

"I couldn't agree with you more."

"No, I insist. You bought the last round. This one's on me."

"You're absolutely right. They are all crooks."

"Your trouble is—you're too good to them. But do they appreciate you? Not them"

But such a machine in time would develop rust spots and wear out. It then would break into your tale of woe with such insane chatter as:

"You couldn't agree with me more"

"Your trouble is you appreciate you too much."

"You're all crooks. I bought the last round. This one is on you."

And all you could do would be to hit it with an ax—and send it to the junk heap.

No, the world doesn't need better automatic talking machines. What man needs is simply more silent machines that will do more of his work for him—and keep their big mouths shut

Merle Davis, president; Jack Woods, first vice president; J. Leiland Helt, second vice president; Arthur Wilmurt, treasurer; and directors, Edward Sommers, Victor Wood and Don Weikart.

Davis, who succeeds Rev. William Woodall, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, is an insurance agent and is also superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School.

Plans were completed for the observation of Teachers and Ladies Night to be held at the next meeting Sept. 18. An interesting program is being planned.

Members should contact Don Weikart for reservations.

THE REBEKAH LODGE held its regular meeting Tuesday evening, with 15 members and two guests present.

Mrs. Verla McGrew, representative of District 27 and Mrs. Esther Beery, district deputy president of Alliance, were present and spoke briefly.

Mrs. Ed Gotthardt, a member of the executive committee of District 27, gave a report on plans for the District School of Instruction which will be held in East Palestine Oct. 23.

Lunch was served by the social committee.

Ladies Auxiliary of the Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a benefit card party Saturday, Sept. 22, at 8 p.m. to be held in the new Fire Hall. The public is invited.

Court To Decide School Dispute

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals will decide whether a part or all of Southern Local School District will vote on a petition to transfer filed last year by a group of Franklin Township residents.

The court heard arguments here yesterday and took the case under consideration.

Headed by Fred Johnson of Summitville, the Franklin group last year petitioned the Columbiana County Board of Education for transfer to Fox, East and Augusta districts of Carroll County. Instead, the county board made Franklin a part of Southern Local District.

Johnson took the case to Common Pleas Court. Judge Raymond S. Buzzard held that the new Southern Local District is legal, and that there should be a vote in the district on the Franklin petition to transfer. Johnson appealed on grounds that only Franklin area residents should have the right to vote.

CARDS WERE ENJOYED when members of the Emerald Club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Norman Miller of 735 W. Wilson St., and prizes at "500" won by Mrs. Ronald Callatone, Mrs. Clark Tolson, Mrs. George Thomas and Mrs. Howard E. Fowler. Traveling prize was awarded to Mrs. Carl Kaiser Sr.

The club will meet Oct. 9 in the home of Mrs. Thomas of 1170 E. State St.

"THE RIM OF EAST ASIA" was the theme of the program presented at the meeting of the November Group of the United Presbyterian Church recently when they met in the parlor of the church.

Mrs. Robert Zeck was program chairman and those participating in the discussion of problems of East Asia and what the church should do about them were Mrs. Russell Loudon, Mrs. Louis Mulbach and Mrs. Richard Stone. Mrs. Norman Flack gave a report on East Asia.

The group will meet again Oct. 10.

DAUGHTERS OF UNION Veterans met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Fred Hall of E. 4th St. for a sack lunch. The Salem Lodge has been invited to attend the DUV District No. 1 tent meeting at the American Legion Hall, 141 S. Main St., Alliance, at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The program consisted of Mrs. John Litty reading "With Due Respect," concerning Memorial Day. Mrs. Cecil Baxter read an article titled "Old Memories and New Hope." An article about gossip was read by Mrs. Mayme Robinson. Miss Lucille Baker read "God's Call through the Bible" from the pamphlet "The Upper Room." Mrs. Gilbert Edgerton told of her recent trip to New London, Conn.

The organization voted to donate to the United Fund drive. The group will meet at the home of Miss Lucille Baker of 378 Jennings Ave. Oct. 2 for a sack lunch at noon.

MRS. WILLIAM WEBER was hostess to members of the December Group of the United Presbyterian Church in her summer home at Seveaken Lake recently. Eighteen enjoyed a covered luncheon at noon with Mrs. Weber presiding at the business meeting following.

"Salvation" was the subject chosen by Mrs. Ralph Long Sr. for her devotions, and Mrs. William Dunn presented "Rim of East Asia," from the church magazine Concern, as the program. Sewing for home missions was discussed by the group. Mrs. William Davis of 1264 E. 10th St. will be hostess to the group at 1:30 p.m. Oct. 3.

THE 36TH ANNUAL REUNION of the Farmer family will be held Sunday in pavilion one, east, Firestone Park, Columbiana. A basket dinner will be served at 1 p.m. for which the beverage will be furnished and games for the children will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker.

TWENTY-FOUR MEMBERS and guests of the Unity Bible Class of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday evening in Fellowship Hall for a covered supper and meeting. Rev. William S. Longworth gave the invocation and Mrs. Edith Bailey, president, gave devotions and conducted the business meeting. The class voted to continue contributing toward the education of a child in India.

Mrs. Betty Helman, program chairman, conducted two quizzes, one on the Bible and the other on famous people in history. Elaine Underwood played three piano solos. The meeting was closed with the entire group repeating scripture verses.

The social committee consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burcaw, Mr. and Mrs. George Dressel and Mrs. Maude Shears. The next meeting will be held Oct. 9 at 7 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

MRS. HUGH KELLS presided at the meeting of the March-October Group recently in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Burrier of Damascus Road. Mrs. George Haynam was welcomed as a guest.

"Sin and the Law" was the subject of devotions presented by Mrs. John Hollinger and Mrs. Kells presided at group discussion of "Evangelism Along the Rim of East Asia."

Mrs. Allen Chandler of 167 W. 10th St. will be hostess to the group Oct. 9 at 9 a.m.

FIFTEEN MEMBERS OF THE Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Kaminsky. Mrs. John

Sweet, president, conducted the business meeting.

The program, "The Lifted Christ," a pledge service, was conducted by Mrs. Laura Whinnery and Mrs. Dorothy Hartsough. Members will work on Christmas tags to make funds for multiple sclerosis in October. Lunch was served by Mrs. Kaminsky and Mrs. John Botu.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT SITLER who live on the Lower Elkton Road, Fairfield Township, were given a surprise dinner Sunday in honor of their 35th wedding anniversary.

The centerpiece for the table was a three-tier wedding cake decorated with the bride and bridegroom. The event was planned by the couple's sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Sitler and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sitler of Columbiana.

The honorees were married Sept. 7, 1927, at the Columbiana Grace Reformed parsonage by Rev. E. Wiest. Mrs. Sitler is the former Leah Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Crawford of Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Sitler have four grandchildren, Christy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sitler; Stanley, Gary and Scott, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Sitler. Both sons are from Columbiana. Mr. Sitler and his son, Wayne, are in the contracting business.

Couple Marks 25 Years of Marriage

A three-tier cake trimmed with silver and topped with a spray of silver roses centered the white covered refreshment table when 75 guests gathered Saturday evening in the CIO Hall in observance of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Shone of E. 3rd St.

Lily-of-the-valley florets trimmed the white candles in silver holders that lighted the decor. Serving were Mrs. Phillip Chronister of East Liverpool, sister of Mrs. Shone; Mrs. David Mullen of Cleveland, Mrs. Robert Paul Shone, and Mrs. John Stein Jr. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Perry Hilliard Jr.

A bouquet of 25 red roses, gift of Mr. Shone to his wife, decorated the gift table. Suspended by ribbons from the ceiling over the table were 25 silver dollars. Mrs. Bernard Shone of East Liverpool was in charge of the gifts.

Among the floral decorations in the hall was a huge bouquet of prize winning dahlia blooms grown by Mr. Shone's father, Frank B. Shone of East Liverpool. Recorded music was in charge of Virgil Price.

The guests, registered by Miss Donna Davis, included persons from Cleveland, East Liverpool and surrounding areas.

Mr. Shone and Bertha Mullen were married Sept. 3, 1937, in East Liverpool and have resided in Salem for 20 years. Mr. Shone is employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

They are the parents of two children, Robert P. Shone of E. State St., and Mrs. John Stein Jr. of W. Wilson St.

Janet Sooy Engaged To Jan C. Shears

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. E. Chester Sooy of 166 Highland Ave. of the engagement of their daughter, Janet Dianne, to Jan Charles Shears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shears of 480 W. 6th St.

Miss Sooy is a graduate of Salem Senior High School and a senior at Kent State University where she is majoring in early childhood education. She is affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

A graduate of Salem High School, Mr. Shears attended Kent State University and will serve a tour of duty in the army reserve beginning in October.

A next summer wedding is planned.

Mrs. Alfred Egli

Newlyweds Will Reside In Zurich, Switzerland

Climaxing a romance that began last summer when both were employed at Villars Palace, Villars, Switzerland, vows were pledged Sunday morning following the worship service in the First Presbyterian Church at Columbiana by Miss Carolyn Detwiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Detwiler Jr. of Columbiana, and Alfred Egli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Egli of Zurich, Switzerland.

Rev. H. J. Scheidemantle officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Russell Barrow presided at the organ, and Miss Debra Smith sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white peau de soie with brief sleeves and scooped neckline outlined with tiny pearls. The full bouffant flared skirt swept to a chapel train.

A circlet of pearlized petals accented with pearl tear drops held her billowing elbow-length veil, and she carried her mother's Eastern Star Bible embellished with a white orchid.

Miss Elizabeth Detwiler served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a gown of fern green peau satin fashioned with scooped neckline, fitted bodice and modified bell shaped skirt accentuated by a spray of satin roses. On her head she wore a matching green satin crown with court veil, and her flowers were cymbidium orchids with croton leaves and Baker fern.

Best man for Mr. Egli was James E. Bennett III of Poland.

Men Of Christian Church Hold Dinner

3 Minor Traffic Accidents Probed

Three minor traffic accidents were investigated by city police Wednesday afternoon, with no injuries and minor vehicle damage reported.

In the first accident at the intersection of Ohio Ave. and E. State St., a car driven by Leroy Weingard, 46, of 651 E. 3rd St., hit the back of a car driven by Carl W. Morris, 52, of 359 Columbia St., Leetonia.

According to police, Morris had stopped at the traffic light when Weingard ran into him. He is scheduled to appear in mayor's court Friday morning for failing to stop in a safe distance.

A car driven by Kenneth R. Alesi, 18, of 525 Stewart Ave., was involved in an accident with a vehicle driven by Thomas C. Fiske, 22, of Senecaville at the intersection of N. Lincoln and E. 5th St.

The Fiske car was traveling south on Lincoln when the Alesi car made a west turn onto E. 5th St. and they collided, according to police.

The 18-year-old youth was cited for failure to yield the right of way and was scheduled to appear in mayor's court.

The third accident happened at the intersection of State St. and Union Ave. Police reported that a car driven by Leman M. Starkey, 18, of New Springfield ran into the back of a car driven by Walter P. Bowman, 72, of Youngstown.

The Bowman car had stopped for the traffic light and was hit by the Starkey car. He was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Dean B. Cramer for failure to stop in a safe distance.

Sanders

Federal courts earlier this year knocked down the state's county unit system, which concentrate political power in rural areas.

Griffin, 55, who campaigned on the racial issue with promises to stem the tide of integration, issued no statement of concession.

Nomination means election as the Republicans have no candidate.

Sanders too is a segregationist, but throughout the campaign he said he would never permit turmoil and disorders — taking a stand similar to that of Gov. Ernest Vandiver. The governor, ineligible to succeed himself, has charged that inflammatory statements made by some during the campaign were the cause of Negro church burnings and other recent racial incidents.

Griffin—who has served as adjutant general, lieutenant governor and governor—had the support of most of the state's oldtime politicians. The Ku Klux Klan gave him its blessing.

The primary returned U.S. Sen. Herman Talmadge and Rep. Carl Vinson to Congress. They were easy winners over token opposition. Talmadge was running for a second term. Vinson, the dean of the House, has been in Washington since 1914.

Board of Realtors Has Dinner Session

The Columbiana County Board of Realtors was glad to hear its guest speaker say the use of the term "realtor" by a broker or salesman is illegal unless the individual has been accepted by the National Real Estate Board. Indiscriminate use of the word has been a peeve of the realtors for years.

The speaker for Tuesday's dinner meeting at the Timberlakes was Dominic Musitano Jr., local field investigator for the Ohio Real Estate Commission. He discussed various laws governing people who sell real property.

He emphasized that money is the only legal consideration in the sale of real property. Inducements such as gifts, trading stamps and other prizes are illegal, he stated.

He mentioned that a broker must have a sign on his place of business even though he works out of his home. Broker ads in newspapers must have the business address of the broker, he added.

President Joe Fisher of Salem presided. A report was given on the board's annual steak fry. The next meeting will be Oct. 9.

Grand Jury Report Expected Today

LISBON—The Columbiana County grand jury, sworn in Tuesday, is expected to report this afternoon to Judge Raymond S. Buzard.

The jury investigated four cases today and was to visit the county jail this afternoon before reporting to the judge.

First U.S. president to make a tour of the states by rail was Andrew Johnson, who made the original "Swing around the Circle" in 1866.

County Courts Took In $6,042 In August

The three Columbiana County courts at Lisbon, Salem and East Palestine collected $6,042 from 295 criminal cases and 72 civil cases during August, according to Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey. Distribution included $3,940 to the county, $1,810 to the state, and $292 in sheriff, constable and police fees. The state gets 45 per cent of fines in state highway patrol casts.

Agents Raid Two Mahoning Places

YOUNGSTOWN—Federal tax agents raided two business places in Mahoning County yesterday and seized three pinball machines. No arrests were made.

The agents took two machines and an undisclosed amount of money from Paul's Truck Stop on Ohio 18 in North Jackson, operated by Paul Sudimak, and one machine from the Idle Acres Inn on U.S. 224 in Canfield, operated by Jack Hayes.

The raids were part of a nationwide crackdown on gamblers who have failed to buy a $50 tax stamp, pay 10 per cent excise levy on their profits and a tax of $250 on each coin-operated gambling device.

E. Palestine Council To Consider Projects

EAST PALESTINE—A special meeting of City Council has been called for tonight by Mayor Robert Harding to consider two legislative proposals.

The first proposal would authorize the mayor to accept a federal grant of $98,700 to be used in the construction of a $331,000 sewage treatment plant. The mayor also will seek authorization to petition the Columbiana County commissioners for funds for the improvement of Brookdale Ave. within the city limits to connect with a recently completed federal aid project on what is known as the back road to Unity.

No One Injured In Crash On Route 62

A city resident escaped injury Wednesday morning in a two-car accident on U.S. 62 near Westville, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Miss Marlene A. Binder, 19, of 1095 E. 3rd St. was traveling east in her car on Route 62 when she was sideswiped by another east-bound car driven by Robert J. Duchane, 32, of RD 1, Beloit.

The accident occurred after the car driven by Mr. Duchane was traveling side-by-side in the outside lane and he attempted to make a left hand turn, the Patrol reported.

Both cars sustained moderate damage. There were no arrests.

95 At Kiwanis Event For New Teachers

Ninety-five persons were present at the family night dinner Tuesday, held by the Kiwanis Club in honor of teachers new to the Salem school system.

Charter Merrill, club president, welcomed new teachers and Paul Smith, superintendent of Salem public schools, responded and commended the Kiwanis Club for this annual program. The new teachers were introduced.

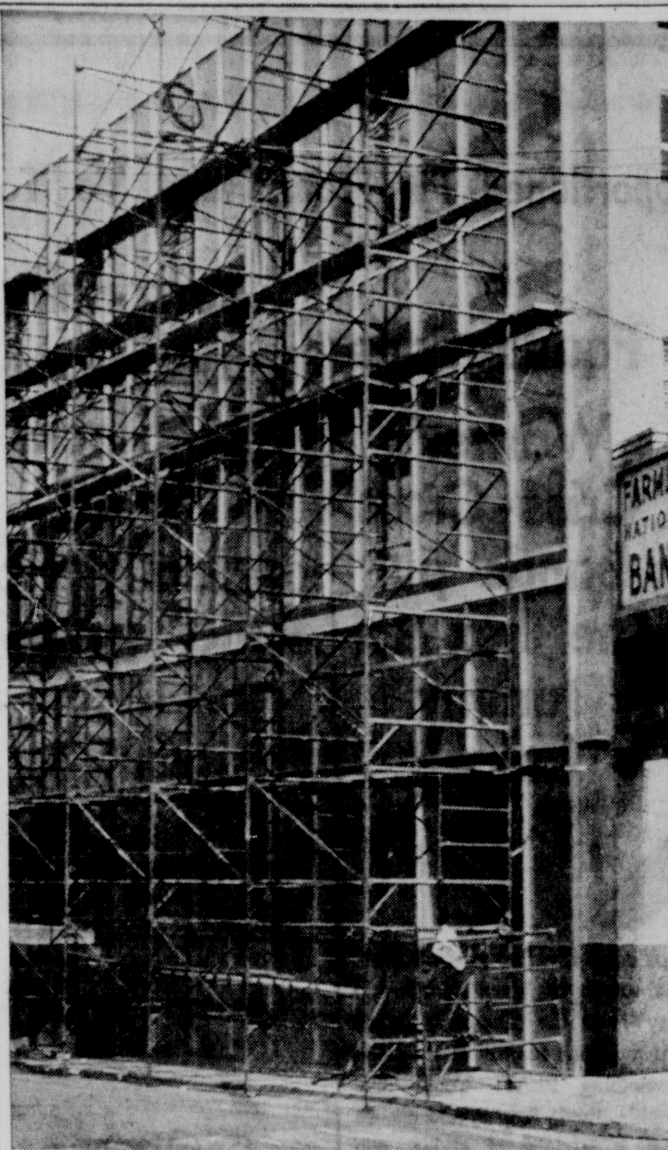

Entertaining the group was R. E. Hagan who, with his family of 13 children, lives on a farm north of Youngstown. His 30-minute talk included humorous and unusual incidents that he has experienced with the family on the farm, named "Kids-a-Plenty."

ABSENTEE BALLOTS MAILED

The Columbiana County Election Board today issued the first 26 absentee voters ballots for the Nov. 6 general election to 26 servicemen and their wives.

The board also issued the first two ballots to civilians residing temporarily outside the U.S.—Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Blake of East Liverpool, who are in France.

Commenting on the number of applications for the early ballots, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said it was "a pretty good start for a non-presidential election year." Regular civilian disabled and absentee voters' ballots will become available on Oct. 7, O'Hanlon said.

BANK JOB PROGRESSES — The Farmers Bank building may not be as tall as a modern skyscraper but the exterior finish will look like one when workmen complete the installation of a porcelain steel curtain wall at the downtown building. Workmen of Bricker & Bricker Construction Co. expect to complete the project within the next three to four weeks. The blue colored siding is enhanced by bright aluminum strips.

Rhodes

party leaders also appeared in the spotlight.

Rhodes said the platform, dealing in party policies and objectives rather than specific planks, provided a flexibility needed for Ohio progress.

"We must provide jobs through expansion of existing industry and location of new ones in Ohio," the former Columbus mayor said. "This is precisely why I have presented my program for a New Jobs and Industrial Development Authority."

Bliss, who opened the convention, drew praise from Miller and others as the nation's greatest state chairman.

Willard W. Brown, candidate for mayor of Cleveland, presided as permanent chairman. Others with major roles included John W. Bricker, former U.S. senator and governor; Congressmen Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, national committee man, and William M. McCulloch of Piqua, member of the party's congressional campaign committee, and Mrs. Katharine Kennedy Brown of Dayton, national committeewoman.

The party platform took Democratic state and national administrations to task for what was described as excessive spending that jeopardized economic growth.

"We believe the greatest danger of our economy is excessive government spending and the growing federal debt which can only result in the imposition of greater tax burdens on the people today and their children," the platform read.

Turning to the Buckeye scene, the platform continued:

"We have witnessed the state government, under Democrat control, impose new and burdensome taxes on business and individuals, increase the everyday operating cost of state government without rendering additional public service, present state budgets requiring expenditures far in excess of estimated revenues, resort to trick bookkeeping and juggling of accounts for the purpose of showing a paper balance in public funds, incite political controversy to the detriment of public service and measure its accomplishments by the amount of tax dollars spent."

The platform termed it the duty of state and local governments to provide educational facilities for basic knowledge, vocational and technical training and to assure equitable distribution of costs among taxpayers.

"In the area of higher education," the platform said, "attention must be given to the establishment of community colleges and branches of our state universities which are financed in part with local funds. Existing facilities must be used to their maximum capacity.

"An outstanding graduate program of education must be developed to train specialists."

Turning to other fields, the platform continued:

"Government has the responsibility of providing and maintaining facilities for the treatment of the mentally ill, the rehabilitation of the disabled and the furnishing of assistance to those unfortunate citizens who cannot provide for themselves."

Pegging the state's future to an economy providing more jobs and good wages, the party statement said:

"This can only become a reality under a government whose aims are to provide more opportunity for the individual, to render the maximum public service for each tax dollar spent, to find solutions to public problems within the limits of available tax revenues and to place public service above political expediency."

Rogers Council to Hold Special Session

ROGERS — A special Village Council meeting has been called for Monday night by Mayor Robert McCreary to discuss Community Hall remodeling.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the hall with members of the Rogers Volunteer Firemen and Ladies Auxiliary.

It is planned to discuss the possibility of remodeling Community Hall to house the volunteer fire department equipment in the building.

Six From Salem to Attend Elks Rally

Six local residents will attend a three-day meeting of the Ohio Elks Association in Cincinnati this weekend.

They are Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins of 489 Jennings Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pasco of 634 Ohio Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Earley of 208 N. Lundy Ave.

The group will attend the convocation which is expected to draw delegates and members from 97 Ohio Elks lodges. Earley will be in charge of a planning meeting Saturday afternoon concerning Americanism activities.

Deaths Funerals

Mrs. Howard Flickinger

Mrs. Grace Flickinger, 74, died at Delp Lake Nursing Home in North Lima at 6 a.m. today of complications following an illness of three years.

A resident of the home one year, she was born June 9, 1888 in Columbiana, a daughter of William C. and Frances Satterfield Hum. She had lived all her life in this area.

She attended the Pleasant Grove Presbyterian Church in Youngstown and the Fern Leaf Rebekah Lodge in Youngstown. She married Howard Flickinger Oct. 5, 1909. He died Oct. 6, 1960. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Harold Fisher of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Henry Houlette of Newark, O.; four brothers, Reuben Hum of Bristolville, O., Frank of Prescott, Ariz., and Russell and Delmar of Columbiana.

Three brothers, Floyd, John and Charles preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Seedy-Bellhart Funeral Home in Columbiana where friends may call Friday evening. Burial will be in Columbiana Cemetery, with Rev. George R. Sweeney, pastor of the Columbiana Methodist Church officiating.

plans," the mayor said. "Then it will take the State Highway Department about six months to advertise for bids before the project can be started."

The project is on the Federal Secondary Road program. This means that the state approved to go ahead and share the cost of the project on a half-way basis of the $20,000. The remaining cost of approximately $10,000 will be split on a 50 per cent basis, with the city paying approximately $5,000 and property owners paying $5,000 as their share.

The length of the resurfacing program will be from W. State St. north to the Salem corporation line.

of Elections petitions asking for a vote at the Nov. 6 election on repeal of the income tax ordinance passed last March.

Applegate said he withheld the petitions because irregularities in signatures and affidavits made them null and void.

Joseph A. Winters of the East Liverpool Trades and Labor Council filed the original case in Common Pleas Court, claiming the auditor refused to certify the petitions to the Election Board as required by law.

Atty. Lawrence Smith, Winters' counsel, acted to hurry up a decision after City Solicitor Joseph Cooper filed notice of appeal.

In his argument to the court yesterday, Smith asked that the case be advanced on the docket to the earliest possible time because (1) it is a case in mandamus, and (2) it seeks to have submitted at the general election Nov. 6 an initiative petition to revoke an income tax ordinance of the city of East Liverpool.

Smoke Alarm Brings Firemen to Clinic

An overheated compressor in the basement of the Central Clinic at 227 North Broadway Wednesday evening brought city firemen to the scene.

There was no damage, reported Fire Chief Elmer Bush. The firemen had to use the smoke ejector to remove smoke from the basement.

News Around Hanoverton

The United Presbyterian Women Association will meet Thursday, Sept. 27, in the social room of the church.

Husbands of the members are invited, to hear Judge Louis Tobin speak on "Juvenile Delinquency". The Association has been asked by the speaker that no children attend. Plans were laid for the meeting when the Dorcas Circle of the Association met this past Thursday evening at the church.

Mrs. Earl Seever Jr. opened the meeting with prayer. The program topic was, "Women in the New Nation of Africa". Mrs. Harold Raley completed the Book of Romans for the Bible Study. The devotional program was led by Mrs. Van Mills who read the poem, "Before I Sleep", by Robert Frost.

Announcement was made of the all day meeting of District Women Worship at the Salem United Presbyterian Church, Oct. 3. A card was signed and sent to Mrs. Dora Wilson who is convalescing from a recent illness.

Mrs. Howard Blanchard will be program leader for next month's meeting. Mrs. Raley was hostess assisted by Mrs. John Ritchey.

The Bertha Wilson group met at the home of Mrs. Lorin Immel, with her daughter Miss Thelma Immel as assistant hostess. Eleven members and two visitors were in attendance. Mrs. Warren Carle opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Herman McDevitt read the scripture followed by a discussion on the topic, "How a Church Family Responds to Worship". Mrs. John Oyer conducted the Bible Study. Mrs. Carle presided for the routine business session. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson Jr. and Paul Thompson Sr. of Alliance visited in the J. D. Lindesmith home recently.

Mrs. Ray Scott, director of the Junior Choir from the United Presbyterian Church, entertained in honor of the group at her home Saturday afternoon. Games and horseback riding was enjoyed, prior to the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Scott assisted by Mrs. Doris Meier.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan of Kentwood, Ind., were recent guests with Mrs. Georgianna Walker.

Charles Hole of Alliance, a former resident, called on friends here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sumner of Twin Lakes, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Bessie Guthrie, returned home after visiting the World's Fair, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gause served as committee hosts for the card benefit held Thursday in the parish hall of St. Philip - Neri Church. Ten tables were in play. Euchre awards were received by Paul Manfull, Clifford Wickesham, and Mrs. Lawrence Hawkins, Mrs. John Lindesmith and Mancil Ridgeway. Prize winners were Mrs. James Noling and Elmer Toalston. The next benefit will be held Thursday evening, Sept. 20.

20 Start Nurses Training Here

Seven Salem and area women are among the 20 who have entered the ninth training class of the Hannah E. Mullins School of Practical Nursing, according to Mrs. E. R. Durand, director of nursing. The course, which began Monday, will be completed in one year.

The trainees are: Nadine Moore and Margaret Todd of Salem; Judy Schaeffer of Berlin Center; Mrs. Helen Taylor of Leetonia; Loretta Conrad of Washingtonville; Nada Clough, Karen Foster, Annette Lauener, Martha Messenheimer, Mary Messenheimer and Carol Shank of Alliance; Mrs. Evelyn French and Lois Palmer of Minerva; Ruth Ann Baughman of Canal Fulton; Susan Earnest of Atwater; Carolyn Irwin of Massillon; Linda McCormack of Perry; Janet McFerrer of Toronto; Agnes Steiner of Orrville; and Mrs. Kathryn Baldwin of Beaver, Pa.

DINING PLACE MATS

LISBON — Dining place mats with printed facts about soil and water conservation are available at the Columbiana Soil Conservation district office on E. Washington St.

SCD officials invite clubs planning rural or conservation programs to order a supply of the conservation place mats. The SCD is interested in getting the conservation message to the public and makes only a small charge for the mats.

and space agency installations at Huntsville, Ala., and Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Those were his occasions to speak. The rest of the time he spent listening, seldom commenting, to government and industry rocketry specialists.

The purpose of Kennedy's survey was to familiarize himself with operations in the space program and to gather fundamental information in advance of preparing his space budget proposal for 1963-64. He has said that space expenditures are bound to rise above the current budget of $5.4 billion.

Powell

The Administration Committee has no control over the spending of counterpart funds.

The Administration Committee has sent to all committee chairmen a notice that in the future more justification will be required before employment of special consultants on a contract or per diem basis is approved.

The action reportedly stemmed from complaints by some congressmen against employment by Powell's committee of Herbert Hill, labor secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Washington NAACP office said Hill still was employed by the organization's New York office. Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, said Hill is being paid at the rate of $10,000 per year on a contract basis by Powell's committee.

With the Patients

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Cancer Cure Quacks Thrive

Each time the American Cancer Society calls attention to an unproven method of cancer treatment or I warn my readers against exploitation by those who merchandise these "cures," we are certain to receive a few letters accusing us of being in a league to discredit "scientists," of blinding ourselves to "discoveries."

In contrast, we occasionally receive a note of commendation such as this:

"You will never know how glad I was to read your article on cancer 'cures.' My husband is slowly dying of the disease and I know what you are talking about and why you are writing these articles."

"I have a sister-in-law who has caused all the heartache and expense in the world for my husband and me by making us go in for these fake cures."

"SHE TALKED US INTO buying a juicer some time back and wanted him to drink at least a half gallon a day. She gets us to buy vitamin E and all other vitamins by the carload."

"She made me boil all the food he eats in spring water and to buy a drug at $10 a bottle because she heard that it cures 'terminal cancer.' She even made me pour it into the poor dear's sores and cavities."

"She got me to plant some kind of root in my garden, and grind it up, together with sunflower seeds and oatmeal, and put it in capsules for him."

"If I say 'no' to her suggestions, she says I don't want him to get well."

"If I tell her to speak to our doctor, whom we trust as a real good friend, she says doctors don't want patients to get well."

BUTTER, EGG PRICES

CHICAGO (AP) — (USDA) — Chicago Mercantile Exchange — Butter steady to firm; wholesale buying prices 1/2 to 3/4 higher; 93 score AA 58; 92 A 58; 90 B 57 1/2; 89 C 56 1/2. Cars 90 B 58; 89 C 58. Eggs steady to firm; wholesale buying prices unchanged to 2 higher; 70 per cent or better grade A whites 42; mixed 41 1/2; mediums 33; standards 34; dirties 23 1/2; checks 23 1/2.

SHE SHOES HORSES — Mrs. Winifred Pincombe looks up from her do-it-yourself project of finishing off a shoe on one of the horses she raises at Wadsworth, Ill. She said she learned the trade as a 15-year-old farm girl in Missouri.

because it's bad for business. "So you can see how relieved I was to read your column because it made me feel that I wasn't doing wrong at all in not believing her because there is nothing I wouldn't do to keep my husband alive so long as I knew I was using a proved medicine that our doctor knew about."

I know just what you are up against, my dear lady. And, for your further information, here are some facts about what is being done at the National Service Center for Cancer Chemotherapy that may surprise your sister-in-law and others like her who peddle misinformation and unjustifiable abuse with equal abandon:

IN THE SEVEN YEARS of its existence, the center has completed 110 studies of different cancers and types of treatment agents and measures. Another 181 studies are in progress. Engaged in these studies are 560 investigators.

Since 1955, some 175,000 materials from industrial, academic and private institutions have been screened. These materials include synthetic hormonal agents, antibiotics and plant products.

For the fiscal year ending June, 1962, our federal government has spent 31.5 million dollars on these projects. Of this amount, nearly 19 millions were allocated for drug development contracts.

But who can convince your sister-in-law that these authorities know more than she thinks she does?

Likes To Surprise His Mate

Ohio Printer Takes Wife to Paris to Mark Anniversary

PARIS (AP)—Wallace Phillips didn't care today that thousands of strangers knew his secret. What mattered was that, for the few hours that counted, his wife of 20 years didn't know.

In Paris, a surprise wedding anniversary dinner tonight awaited 42-year-old Phyllis Phillips—who was held by turns to believe they'd share it in New York... then Reykjavik, Iceland... then Luxembourg.

Wallace Phillips, a printer for the Findlay, Ohio, Republican-Courier, likes to surprise his wife. He told her they would fly to New York for their anniversary, then quietly arranged an overseas trip.

The couple left their two children, Michael, 16, and Monday, 12, with relatives in Ohio and flew to New York Wednesday. At New York's Idlewild Airport Phillips told his wife he had decided instead to dine here in Reykjavik.

New York newsmen, in on his plans, cooperated in keeping his secret from Mrs. Phillips.

On the plane to Iceland, as they nibbled at a surprise anniversary cake, he would tell her they'd continue on to Luxembourg. Once there this afternoon, they would take a five-hour train ride to Paris.

In Paris they would have their anniversary dinner, and his wife would have a new dress, another surprise.

Phillips explained to newsmen how he arranged all details of the trip without causing her to suspect.

He got her to sign a passport under a pretext, got the identification photograph under the guise of a birthday gift for their daughter, and persuaded Phyllis to get inoculated because of smallpox scares in the news. He even took her to a neighboring town for a hairdo so there'd be no chance of beauty parlor gossips revealing his secret.

"She's been a darned good wife," said Phillips, "and she's always helped me out. I like to keep her more or less guessing. I think she enjoys things that way."

Reporters at Idlewild interviewed Mrs. Phillips separately, saying they wanted a story for the Republican-Courier. She said: "I like surprises. We both like the same things. He gets so much enjoyment out of it, so I don't ask him any questions. I think this is a good way to be in marriage. It works out for us."

Scaffold Breaks, Two Brothers Die In Fall

NEW YORK (AP)—Two brothers fell 11 stories to their deaths when a scaffold broke as they painted window frames of a new apartment house Wednesday.

The victims were Ludwig Sigus and his brother, Alfred, both in their 50's.

MOTORCYCLIST KILLED

CLEVELAND (AP) — Adrian Osadchuck, 23, was injured fatally when his motorcycle collided with an automobile on an intersection in suburban Maple Heights Wednesday night.

Cerebral Palsy

Drive Set Sept. 25

The Columbiana County affiliate of the Cerebral Palsy Association is calling its fund drive set for Sept. 25, the "53-Minute March".

President Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool said the name emphasizes the fact that a child is born with cerebral palsy every 53 minutes.

Funds given locally support the CP clinic and nursery school at East Liverpool. Chartered in 1954, it now has 22 children being treated twice a week by a registered therapist. The clinic serves all of Columbiana County, plus Chester and Newell, W. Va.

Brian said expenses average $6,000 per year. The sole source of income is from voluntary contributions, he said.

Plans for the "march" were made at a dinner meeting Tuesday in the Wick Hotel at Lisbon. On the board are Mrs. Jane Calhoun and George Serago, Lisbon; Rex Reich, Salem; James Magill, Columbiana; Mrs. William Spait and Mrs. William Whalen, East Palestine; Mrs. Charles Mundy and Robert Cole, Salineville; and Mrs. Eileen Bush and Mrs. Fred Perkins, Damascus.

These board members will supervise collections in their communities, Brian said.

Boys Who Stole Car

In Lisbon Nabbed

Two boys who ran away from an Akron juvenile detention center Wednesday morning were apprehended at 7:15 p.m. in Shady-side, O., in a car stolen about noon at Lisbon.

The complaint was filed with Lisbon police by Frank C. Ray of the Ray Beverage Co. here, who said he gave the two boys a lift from Salem to Lisbon.

Ray stopped here for business at a tavern and suggested that the boys get out. When he returned from the tavern his 1957 sedan was gone. Police said he left the key in the ignition.

Belmont County authorities held the boys overnight. Summit County juvenile authorities are to get them today.

First Ladies Popular Targets of Brickbats

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy may find some comfort in recalling that First Ladies before her were targets of criticism, too.

From Martha Washington to the modern era there have been brickbats flying along with the accolades.

Some of the disapproval has been on the personal side, some political.

Amid extravagant praise, for example, Dolley Madison once heard a male critic deride her as "fat, forty, but not fair."

Down through the years, any thing from Martha's hats to Mamie Eisenhower's bangs has been fair game.

Eleanor Roosevelt, First Lady longer than any of the others, probably was criticized the most.

The more a First Lady does, the more comment, some critical, some is likely to be.

As the latest target, Mrs. Kennedy drew the ire of a Baptist minister in Colorado and a London newspaper during her vacation in Ravello, Italy.

The clergyman disapproved of public, photographed appearances in bathing suits by the First Lady and her husband, the President.

He said they apparently had thrown decorum, dignity and decency overboard.

The newspaper also appealed to Mrs. Kennedy to give up what it called the madness of water skiing with her 4-year-old daughter, Caroline.

This was not the first — and won't be the last — of the criticism Mrs. Kennedy will encounter.

But alongside the storms that have raged about some of her predecessors, these latest barbs seem mild.

One historian reports that Martha Washington quickly learned to be cautious and "careful not to express an opinion on any public question except to intimate friends."

In more recent years, Mrs. Kennedy's predecessors, Mamie Eisenhower, Bess Truman and Eleanor Roosevelt have had their trials, too.

As the wife of the only four times elected president, Mrs. Roosevelt was a highly controversial figure, but insisted she simply had to do what she thought was right.

Housewifely, bridge-playing Bess Truman firmly held that she was not elected to public office and that the background was her proper place.

Her biggest public ruckus came over accepting an invitation to a tea given by the Daughters of the American Revolution at the time Negro pianist Hazel Scott was denied use of the society's Constitution Hall. Mrs. Roosevelt had resigned from the society in 1939 to protest exclusion of Negro soprano Marian Anderson from the same stage.

Mrs. Truman took this public stand: "I deplore any action which denies artistic talent an opportunity to express itself because of prejudice against race or origin." But she went to the tea, having previously agreed to do so.

Mrs. Eisenhower's health became something of an issue when Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler said he had heard it might influence the President's decision whether to run for reelection in 1956.

President Eisenhower commented at a news conference that while his wife wasn't as strong and robust as some people, "she is in good health."

Disgruntled at Cut In U.S. Aid

Haiti's 'Papa Doc' Threatens To Kick Uncle Sam In Shins

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Haiti's government, like a spanked child, is threatening to kick Uncle Sam in the shins.

Uncle Sam, in effect, has deprived him of his candy — and Papa Doc, according to responsible people who claim to have heard him say it, intends to "bring President Kennedy to his knees."

Papa Doc is the name many of the four million Negroes in this French-speaking nation apply to Dr. Francis Duvalier, their iron-fisted dictator-president. His regime is rapidly making progress backward. He is asking for trouble and seems likely to get it.

This storm in the Caribbean, blowing up for months, is worrisome because Cuba is only 50 miles away.

U.S. economic aid was suspended when Washington despaired of finding logic in the Duvalier regime. Military aid also has been halted. The regime, buzzing like an angry bee deprived of its nectar, rolls its eyes speculatively toward Moscow. Rumors are dropped in Washington, evidently by paid lobbyists, that the 55-year-old dictator has lost patience and will punish the Americans.

In reality, Duvalier fears the Communists. Cautiously he grants a little latitude to a few highly placed men with extreme leftist leanings. But he remains nervously alert to any sign of overt Communist activity.

Broadcasts berate the United States with brave, defiant-sounding talk. One gets the impression that Dr. Duvalier is a frightened man. His sole ambition seems to be to keep himself in power. He maintains a harsh gun rule, a perpetual state of siege.

Most Haitians are too involved with scratching out a living to pay much attention to politics. The per-capita income equals about $70 a year, making Haiti, among the oldest and smallest republics of the hemisphere, also its poorest. Ninety per cent are illiterate. Opposition is beginning to grow among the 10 per cent who can read and write.

A coffee republic with an agricultural economy, Haiti is hardly ready for modern democracy. Perhaps the best it can hope for is a benevolent strongman. The United States turned sour on Duvalier not because he is a dictator but because he attempted to use

U.S. aid for political aggrandizement. He rejected checks on use of dollar funds for various aid projects. Today, only the old Point 4 malaria control program is congenial in 1915 that the United States sent Marines to restore order. They remained until 1934. Duvalier became president in a

Mind Your Manners

When girls share an apartment, there should be a definite understanding as to the division of housework.

States sent Marines to restore order. They remained until 1934. Duvalier became president in a 1957 election denounced as fraudulent by his opposition. The physician-politician, who had close ties with Americans as a medical campaigner against tropical diseases, was supported by a military junta and declared president. Before long he, like many before him, took on the trappings of a dictator.

He remained loudly pro-American, however, even to the extent of inviting the Marines to return and train his army. Most of the help was in the noncombatant field—medical services, transport, communications, repair services. Duvalier's own policies impeded the program and may be wrecking his own army, one of the few stable forces in the nation.

The 57-man U.S. naval mission remains in Haiti, but it is just marking time.

Quakers To Entertain Youngstown North Friday Night

Clash Is 1st For Visiting Bulldogs

By LYNN BROWNE
With a 20-6 inaugural victory over Ashland under their belts, the Salem Quakers prepare to battle Youngstown North's Bulldogs Friday night at Reilly Stadium. Kickoff time is slated for 8 p.m.

The clash will be the first of the season for the Bulldogs. In their only other appearance this season, Coach Marshall Popelba's gridders bowed 8-0 to Youngstown East in a 20-minute preview last week.

The Quakers face pretty much the same type team they were up against last week. North failed to win a game last season and were 0-8-1 in 1960 — Popelba's first year as head mentor.

ASHLAND'S LOSS last week was its 11th consecutive setback over a three-year period.

Coach Morton related that the Quakers haven't been working on anything in particular this week in preparation for the Bulldogs invasion.

"We don't know enough about them to prepare anything special," Morton said. Despite Morton's claim of an ordinary practice week, there probably has been at least equal, if not more, emphasis placed on offense than defense, since the defensive unit appeared more polished than the offensive squad in last week's fray.

Morton said he will go with the same starting offensive unit as he did last week, with possibly one or two changes.

THAT MEANS Marlin Waller and Bob Hasson will be at left and right end, respectively; Tod Bonsall and Bill Winter will hold down the tackle slots; Dick Keeler and Gary Starbuck will start at the guards and George Johnston will be at center to round out the line.

One change that Morton indicated he may make on the line would be starting Ron Evans, a 165-lb. senior, at the left guard slot in place of Keeler, also a senior who tips the scales at 150.

Senior Bill Beery will once again be calling the signals with Dave Capel at right halfback, Dave Taus at left halfback and Bob Owens at fullback. However, George Begalla, a 190-lb. junior who saw action last week at tackle, could get the starting nod at fullback, Morton said.

SALEM WILL definitely have a weight advantage if the two coaches start the teams they named tentatively. The Quaker backs weigh in at an average 172½-lbs. as compared to the Bulldogs' 165 and the Salem forward wall averages out at just better than 176 while North's average lineman weighs slightly over 156.

In giving a starting lineup, Coach Popelba remarked that injuries have weakened his starting unit. Nate Clark, a 160-lb. senior signal-caller, and Ed Crain, a junior at 165-lbs., will probably be out of action. Crain is a defensive tackle.

At the ends Popelba will use a 150-lb. sophomore, John Berchik, and a junior, 150-lb. Ron Parker, while two seniors, Jim Jordan at 165-lbs. and Bob Sinkovich, a 180-lb. veteran, will start at the tackles.

JUNIOR PHINEAS Williams, who weighs 160, and Joe Beeson, a 135-lb. senior, will play guards and flank 155-lb. senior Ed Halick at center.

At quarterback will be Jerome Hightower, a 145-lb. junior, who was called up to replace injury-hampered Clark. Ken Kacenga at 175-lbs. will play right half with the left half slot being filled by Pat Paris, a 165-lb. junior. Junior Joe Nemkovich, at 175-lbs. will be the fullback.

Popelba said that his team is works out a ground team and works out of a split-T with a belly-series.

THE COACH FEELS that the success of his team against the Quakers depends on how well his defensive unit can contend with Salem quarterback Bill Beery.

"We've got to bottle him up; if we can contain him I think we'll be all right," he commented. Popelba was understandingly impressed by Beery last season, when the versatile quarterback romped for three touchdowns as the Quakers rolled up a 24-12 victory.

"We're going to have to stop him. That's all there is to it," he concluded.

Tourney Action Continues Tonight

Steubenville Naples' Lounge Posts 2 Wins In Softball Play

Steubenville Naples' Lounge racked up two 2-0 shutouts in Salem Invitational Softball Tourney action Wednesday night at Kelley Field.

Steubenville blanked the Niles Amvets in the opener and then posted a nightcap victory over the Salem Merchants.

Action continues tonight with Youngstown Palkovic Insurance and Salem Lincoln Machine battling at 7 p.m., Cleveland Republic Steel and Niles Alberini's clashing at 8 p.m. and Salem Old Dutch challenging Youngstown Local 1331 at 9 p.m.

In the first tilt last night, Frank Payton's bid for a no-hitter was spoiled in the sixth inning when the Amvets' Nick Nickolas pounded a single to right field. In getting the win Payton fanned five and walked only one man. Luke Tomlin was charged with the loss.

The winners scored their first run in the second inning when Bubba Shively doubled to center field and sprinted home when the next man up, Wayne Pickford, singled.

Shively got his second hit of the evening in the next inning when he singled to advance Ed Nurzik who had also smacked a one-baser. Nurzik added the victors' second tally, scoring on a walk and an error.

A pitchers' duel developed when the Loungemen took on the Salem Merchants in the evening's finale.

The Merchants' Jim Stonemetz and the winners' Roy Hendershot each hurled two-hitters but a walk, two errors and a single by Bob Larkey allowed the Steubenville crew to shove across two tallies in the sixth to secure the win.

Fray Lasts 16 Innings

Senators' Cheney Fans 21 Baltimore Batters

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

As the American League pennant scramble reaches its climax, the least likely team you'd expect to hear from is Washington, but 21 strikeouts by the Senators' Tom Cheney has grabbed the spotlight from the contenders.

Cheney 27, a right-hander who has labored sporadically and unspectacularly in five previous major league campaigns, sent up his salute Wednesday night, striking out 21 batters in 16 innings for a major league one-game record en route to a 2-1 victory over Baltimore.

Meanwhile, it began to look like taps-blowing time for New York's pursuers in the pennant race. The Yankees ballooned their bulge as Mickey Mantle hit a three-run homer and powered the defending world champions to a 5-2 decision over Cleveland.

The second place Los Angeles Angels lost to Kansas City 4-1 and fell five games back while third-place Minnesota bowed to the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 12 innings and dropped 5½ lengths off the pace.

That left the Yanks' magic pennant-clinching number at 10. Any combination of 10 New York victories and/or Los Angeles defeats will give the Yanks their 12th pennant in 14 years.

In the other AL games Wednesday, Boston swept a doubleheader from Detroit 8-6 and 6-2.

Mantle's homer off Pedro Ramos put the Yankees ahead 4-2 in the fifth inning after the Indians had moved out front on Chuck Essegian's two-run homer in the fourth.

The A's rode a four-hitter by Orlando Pena (4-3) to their victory over the Angels, Los Angeles lone run coming when Lee Thomas homered in the ninth inning.

Kansas City tagged almost-teammate Bo Belinsky (9-10) with the loss. Sherm Lollar stroked a two-out single in the 12th, scoring Al Smith with the winning run for the White Sox as they handed the Twins their fourth consecutive setback.

Rocky Colavito hit homers Nos. 34 and 35 and Norm Cash tagged his 35th for the Tigers in the opener, but the Red Sox won it for Dick Radatz (9-5) on Ed Bresoud's three-run homer in the ninth. A three-run homer by Frank Malzone provided the Red Sox with the nightcap triumph.

SPORTSMAN CLUB TO MEET
The Washingtonville — Beaver Creek Sportsman Club will meet at 8 p.m. tonight at the club house, located on the Canfield Rd. north of Washingtonville.

President Gene Morrow reports that more than 120 persons attended the club's family day picnic held over the weekend.

Lisbon, Wellsville To Battle Friday; Greenford Seeks First Win Saturday

Coach Al Carrino will be seeking his first win at the helm of the Greenford Bobcats when his gridders play host to Mineral Ridge's Ramblers Saturday in one of 17 weekend games involving all 26 area schools.

The clash will be the only one with significance in any of the three area leagues — Tri-County, Inter-County and Turnpike Conference. Both squads are in the Inter-County circuit.

Carrino's charges failed in an attempt to give their new head mentor an opening win, when they bowed to Salineville 8-6 last Saturday. The Ramblers posted an impressive 22-0 victory over the Crestview Rebels in their opener last week.

Dodgers Nip Houston 2-1

Giants Lose 4-1 To Cincinnati

Braves Rip Phillies In Only Other Game

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Los Angeles Dodgers won their game.

The San Francisco Giants lost their game—and Willie Mays.

The Cincinnati Reds won their game—but lost Joey Jay.

That combination may provide the Dodgers, the opening for a breakthrough in the tension-filled National League race.

A home run by Frank Howard and the tight relief pitching of unbeaten Ed Roebuck and Ron Perranoski lifted the Dodgers to a 1-0 victory over Houston Wednesday night and into a 1½ game lead over runner-up San Francisco. The Giants were 4-1 losers to the third-place Reds, still ½ behind, as Frank Robinson powered the way for the winners with two homers.

Mays and Jay were casualties at Cincinnati, and any extended layoff by either star performer could doom the title chances of his club.

Mays Collapses

Mays, the majors' top home run hitter with 43 and the Giants' leader in their pennant drive, collapsed of what was described as an attack of indigestion in the third inning. The brilliant center fielder was unconscious when he was carried off the field, but revived before being taken to the hospital.

Jay, a 21-game winning right-hander, was sent to the hospital a short time later after a batted ball struck the index finger of his pitching hand.

The Dodgers managed three hits off Ken Johnson and Don McMahon, but the big one by Howard was enough for the Pete Richert - Roebuck - Perranoski combine. Richert held off the Colts through three innings, but in the fourth he gave up a single to Roman Mejias and a bunt hit to Carl Warwick with none out. Roebuck then made his 53rd trip to the mound this season, and after a sacrifice and an intentional walk, Hal Smith hit into a double play.

Another Double Play

Another double play smoothed things for Roebuck in the seventh and the right-handed relief star had to get through another jam in the eighth. In the ninth, after a one-out walk to Smith, Perranoski entered the act and rang down the curtain, saving Roebuck's 10th straight victory.

Johnson put down the first 13 Dodgers in order before Howard's 27th homer in the fifth.

San Francisco's left-hander Billy Pierce got roughed up in the first inning at Cincinnati. Eddie Kasko opened with a single and two outs later, Robinson and Wally Post homered in succession. Robinson socked No. 38 in the sixth, also off Pierce. The two hits in four tries boosted Robinson into the league batting lead at .340.

Jay held the Giants without a hit until the fourth inning, but ran into misfortune in the fifth. Jose Pagan singled and Chuck Hiller's sharp hit to the mound rapped Jay on the hand, forcing him out of the game and into the hospital.

San Francisco manager Alvin Dark announced in the fifth inning that he was playing the game under protest after charging Jay with using an improper pitching motion.

The Braves supported Lemaster's shutout pitching with a 14-hit attack.

BATTING—Frank Howard, Dodgers, hit his 27th homer in fifth inning for game's lone run in 1-0 victory over Houston as National League leading Los Angeles increased its edge over second-place San Francisco to 1½ games.

PITCHING—Tom Cheney, Senators, struck out 21 batters in 16 innings for an all-time major league one-game strikeout record in 2-1 triumph over Baltimore.

WYOMING FIVE IS STRONG

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Coach Bill Strannigan expects to have a strong Wyoming basketball team this season. Five of seven lettermen will be back, plus three good junior college transfers, one service returnee and four top prospects from the freshman team.

Star of the team figures to be Al Eastland, 6-foot-8 senior center from Moline, Ill. He scored 418 points last season. Eastland needs 285 points to tie Moe Radovich, who had 971, third best figure in Wyoming history. Radovich now coaches Wyoming's freshmen.

Scholastic Football Off To Frantic Start

By FIRTZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's scholastic football season is off to an enthusiastic, if confusing, start.

For years and years Stark County's "big three"—Massillon, Alliance and Canton McKinley—have been dominant factors in the race for the state championship and the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy.

But disaster has struck all three, with the season just an infant.

Massillon second last year, was

DRYSDALE HAS AN EDGE

CINCINNATI (AP)—Since 1918 there have been 140 National League 20-game winners but none in recent years has had Don Drysdale's edge in quest of the 30-win mark.

Dodger star Drysdale won his 20th game on Aug. 3. The last National League hurler to reach that mark so early in a season was Jim (Hippo) Vaughn of the Cubs. In 1918 he won his 20th game on Aug. 1. Dizzy Dean won 30 in 1934 but that year he won his 20th decision on Aug. 7.

ATTRACTIVE BASKETBALL

NEW YORK (AP)—The 11th annual Eastern College Athletic Conference holiday tournament, the return of Notre Dame, a scheduled game between Dayton and Providence and appearances of 12 of last season's major tournament teams will feature Madison Square Garden basketball this winter.

dumped 8-7 by Fremont Ross last weekend, eighth-rated Alliance was victimized 13-8 by Lima Senior in the first game ever played by the two schools, and McKinley isn't playing at all due to a suspension for tampering with another school's players.

Massillon's loss was its first at home since 1957, and its first opening day defeat since 1946. The Tigers had a big edge in statistics, but a pass interception on the one-yard line late in the game saved the day for the "Little Giants" of Fremont—who now are known as the "Big Giants."

Niles McKinley, which nosed out Massillon for the state title in The Associated Press poll last season, held East Liverpool to one first down and 9 yards rushing in a 32-0 inaugural victory.

Third-place Bellevue romped 68-4 over Fostoria; fourth-ranked Cincinnati Roger Bacon was idle; fifth-rated Martins Ferry made it 32 victories in a row (21 straight for Coach Bob Wion) with a come-from-behind 14-12 verdict over Dover; sixth-ranked Hamilton Garfield eased by Fairfield 6-0; Kettering Fairmont, seventh last year, triumphed 24-7 over Marion Harding; ninth-ranked Toledo Macomber was held to a scoreless tie by Toledo St. Francis in a multi-team premiere, and tenth-ranked Middletown, featuring coach of the year Glenn (Tiger) Ellison's unusual "run and shoot" offense, outscored Cincinnati Greenhills 70 to 28.

Stark County, long the Buckeye grid capital, sent seven of its teams against out-of-county opposition last weekend, and four were defeated and one tied.

Warren Harding, tipped as one of the season's better teams, was held to a 6-6 tie by Mansfield's Tygers—and the Panthers will be at home for the next nine games in the state's most unusual schedule. Parma, which held Massillon's 11-game winners of 1961 to a one-point conquest, was tied 20-20 by Sandusky's Blue Streaks.

More than 500 schools are in the free-for-all race for the state crown, and many of them see action for the first time this weekend. The slate for last year's top 10:

Cleveland Cathedral Latin at Niles, Akron South at Massillon, Bellevue at Clyde, Cincinnati Moeller at Roger Bacon, Marietta at Martins Ferry, Cincinnati Hughes at Hamilton Garfield, Springfield South at Kettering Fairmont, Akron Central at Alliance, Toledo Macomber at Toledo Whitmer, and Columbus North at Middletown.

Massillon, which lost a huge "gate" this year as the Canton McKinley classic was erased by the Bulldog suspension, announced it would play its ancient rival twice next season. The last time they met twice in a single campaign was in 1909, but in 1963 they'll clash Oct. 11 at Massillon and Nov. 9 in Canton's Fawcett Stadium.

ANGELS AND YANKS DRAW

NEW YORK (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels and the New York Yankees drew two of baseball's best crowds this year. On Friday, July 13, when Ken McBride of the Angels won his eighth straight game, he beat the Yankees before 53,591 in Chavez Ravine.

On Labor Day in New York, when the teams split a double header, there were 55,705 on hand.

Pittsburgh won the National League pennant by 27½ games over second place Brooklyn in 1962, the biggest margin in major league history.

Here's Culinary Magic: Cormeal Popovers

Some of our friends use some of their spare time to dream up new ways to make old dishes taste extra-good.

We had never happened on a popover made with cormeal until we tasted the combination at a friend's house. She made hers in an electric blender and substituted a quarter cup of cormeal for a quarter cup of flour in a standard recipe.

But cooks cannot leave well enough alone! We found you could substitute as much as one-third cup cormeal for a bit more of that old-southern flavor. To do this we use three eggs, rather than the usual two called for in a standard popover recipe. If you use only two eggs, the popovers will probably have too many moist layers inside and won't puff really high.

Because there's a high proportion of liquid to flour in a popover recipe, the batter can be beaten thoroughly without toughening the hot bread to any appreciable extent.

Should popovers be put into hot pans, as old-fashioned recipes direct, or into cold, as modern recipes suggest? Take your choice. Experts in experimental cookery say the temperature of the pans makes little difference in the finished product.

Make sure your popovers are thoroughly baked and that they feel firm when you take them from the oven. Rush them to the table, we beg you, so they can be eaten — slathered with butter — while they're still deliciously crisp.

CORNEAL POPOVERS A LA EMMIE LAW

2-3 cup sifted flour, 1-3 cup enriched yellow cormeal, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 large eggs, 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon salad oil.

Sift together the flour, cormeal and salt into a mixing bowl. Add the eggs and milk. Beat with a rotary beater (hand or electric) until smooth; with electric beater at medium speed this will take 1½ to 2 minutes. Add the oil; beat ½ to 1 minute. Pour batter into 8 well-greased 5-ounce heat-resistant glass custard cups; each cup should be about one-half full. Bake in a very hot (475 degrees) oven 15 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees) and bake until golden-brown and quite firm to the touch — about 35 minutes. Remove from cups at once and rush to the table. Serve with butter.

This Meringue Dessert Beats All Others

There are lots of wonderful dishes in the world. The trick is to find accurate recipes for them that a home cook can follow.

One of my best recipe scouts, my sister Phyllis, discovered one of the loveliest of soft meringue desserts at a New York restaurant where she often lunches. Lucky the day the recipe was printed on the back of the restaurant's menu! My sister tried the rule at home, cutting it in half to serve six, and early last spring we gave her version of it.

Now we've made a few other changes, practical for home use, in the rule — but the flavor and texture are the same. The original recipe suggested frozen strawberries and whipped cream as the accompaniment for the meringue. Phyllis omits the cream, and serves her meringue with fresh orange sections — a throwback to the way the famous Schaum Torte was offered in our home when we were young.

I stick to the frozen strawberries, sometimes making them into a sauce. The whipped cream I, too, find superfluous.

We consider this an economical dessert because it uses leftover egg whites. When she scrambles eggs for her family, she sometimes leaves out a white and "sneaks" it into a small screw-top jar. Then as other egg whites are left over or "sneaked," she adds them to the jar. Tightly covered and refrigerated, the egg whites keep safely for a week to 10 days. So it's easy to save the half-cup of whites (usually four) needed for this recipe.

MELLOW MERINGUE

1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup flaked coconut, ½ cup (4 large) egg whites, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

In a small saucepan, scald ¾ cup milk. Gradually stir the remaining ¼ cup cold milk into cornstarch, keeping smooth; mix into scalded milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened; remove from heat. Stir in sugar, salt and coconut; cool slightly. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until stiff straight peaks form when beater is slowly withdrawn. Fold in cooled sauce and vanilla. Turn into an ungreased 8-inch round cake pan. Place in a pan of hot water, having water come half way up side of cake pan. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until puffed and lightly browned — 30

Add Poached Eggs to Repertoire

American culinary taste is progressing! We're beginning to be enthusiastic about the poached fruits so much appreciated abroad.

Among the fruits that take to this treatment is the Bartlett pear.

Ever try Pear Melba? This, of course, is stolen from the peach dessert originated by Escoffier. For Pear Melba, perch a poached pear half atop a scoop of vanilla ice cream and serve with a raspberry sauce. To make the sauce, thaw a package of frozen red raspberries in sugar syrup and rub them through a fine strainer to get rid of seeds. (If your strainer hasn't an extremely fine mesh, line it with cheesecloth.) Bring the raspberry puree to a boil and then simmer until just thickened, about 5 minutes; cool and chill.

How about Pear Helene? The version we have served to guests, with much applause, goes like this. Surround a mold of vanilla and coffee ice cream with poached pear halves and pass chocolate sauce.

Another delight: poach pear halves just before serving, adding lemon rind to a light sugar syrup; offer these with a drizzle of whipped cream. The delicate flavor of the pear, accented by the lemon, seems to come through perfectly when the pears are hot.

Team poached pears with white raisins soaked in sherry and you'll never regret it.

Poached pears are also fine to serve as a garnish with meats. Fill the cavities of the pear halves with whole cranberry sauce (out of a can) and garnish with sprigs of mint.

Here's a recipe we like for poaching Bartlett pear halves in an orange-flavored syrup to serve "as is" or with a Chinese-type embellishment.

PEAR VARIETY

1 cup sugar, 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, ½ cup orange juice, 4 Bartlett pears. In a wide medium-sized saucepan, stir together the sugar, water, orange rind and juice over low heat until sugar dissolves; bring to simmering. Pare pears, leaving stems on. Add pears to turning often, until pears are tender when pierced with a fork — about 20 minutes. Remove pears with a slotted spoon. There should be about 1½ cups syrup; gently boil syrup to reduce to about 1 cup. Pour syrup over pears; cool and chill.

Variation: Add slivered preserved ginger to pears and syrup; serve with Chinese tea. Delicious! Note: It's important to use ripe but firm pears for poaching so the cooked fruit will have a good texture. Don't overcook!

Eggs and Peas: Different Combination

Looking for an easy to prepare, slightly different and very nutritious supper dish? Then try this combination of poached eggs and peas with lemon butter sauce.

With it, serve crisp bacon or fried ham and frozen French fries. How does it sound to you?

Poached Eggs and Peas with Lemon Butter Sauce

1-3 cup butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 cup milk or half and half (milk and cream), 1 egg, beaten, 3 tablespoons lemon juice.

2 packages (10-ounces each) frozen peas, partially defrosted and broken apart, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon marjoram, 6 poached eggs. Toast points.

Make sauce. Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; blend in flour, salt and paprika. Add milk or half and half and place over low heat to cook, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Add small amount of hot mixture to egg, beating constantly during addition. Add egg to hot mixture; place over very low heat and heat, about 3 minutes.

Stir in lemon juice and remaining butter or margarine, a small amount at a time, stirring well after each addition. Prepare peas and eggs. Combine peas, butter or margarine, water, salt and marjoram in saucepan. Cook slowly until peas are tender, about 5 minutes.

Pour peas into heated serving dish, making indentations for eggs. Arrange eggs on peas and stand toast points upright around peas. Spoon sauce over eggs and peas. Serve on toast points, if desired. Serve with crisp bacon or fried ham.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

We are still selling Maxwell House and Chase and Sanborn Coffee for only 59c lb. or 2 lbs. for $1.17. A good cup of coffee helps you start the day off better. We want our customers to live better for less. Butter is only 59c lb. every day of the week. We sell tons of it. At the Country Store you save on quality items, you do not have to settle for lesser quality to get lower prices. More people shop at the Country Store every week. They know cash savings are your best savings.

Lisbon
 Social

By ETIA MAE ALEXANDER

The first meeting this season of the Women's Society of Christian Service was held Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Donald Dawes, president, presided. She announced the district fall conference all-day session will be held at the Methodist Church in Columbiana Saturday.

An invitation from the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church of Lisbon to attend a meeting Oct. 15 at 8 p.m. was accepted.

Mrs. R. Dale Young will have charge of a program to be presented at the County Home Sunday afternoon at 3.

Miss Donna Dawes and Miss Norma Crook gave a report on highlights of their week at Lakeside this summer, which was sponsored by the society.

Miss Kay Duke, senior at Baldwin-Wallace College, played two flute solos, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Vernon Duke.

Mrs. David Edgerton, Mrs. Carl Morgan and Mrs. Ray Beers presented a program on "The Children's Work".

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. William L. Lewton Sr., Mrs. William Lewton Jr. and Mrs. Harry Longenecker.

Besides Mrs. Dawes, other officers are Mrs. Charles Pike, vice president; Mrs. Clarence Ball, secretary; Mrs. George Yost, treasurer.

Committee chairman, Mrs. David Edgerton, child work; Mrs. Carl Morgan, youth work; Mrs. R. Dale Young, social relations; Mrs. Anna McIntosh, literature and publications; Mrs. Forest McClintock, missionary education; Miss Jean Marsden, promotion secretary; Mrs. Lester Pribble, spiritual life; Mrs. William Brown, student work; Miss Margaret Morrow, supply work; Mrs. Albert Webber.

The next meeting of W.S.C.S. will be Oct. 9 at 8 p.m.

MRS. DELLA CROSSER, president of the Eagles Auxiliary presided at the meeting Tuesday evening, with all officers present. She conducted the balloting for new members and appointed Mrs. Arila Paulini publicity chairman for 1962-63.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Louis Hedl of the appointment of Mrs. Francis Vanis of Geneva as grand madam of national trustees of the Eagles auxiliary.

Mrs. Margaret Brunner received the special prize and Mrs. Kathrine Buckley, the attendance prize.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ernest Reisinger and Mrs. Vera Powell.

The next meeting will be Sept. 25.

The Jane Smith Group of Trinity United Presbyterian Church

NEW THUNDERBIRD — The style-setting Ford Thunderbird sets new standards of elegance, performance and quality in 1963. All four new Thunderbird models — hardtop (top photo), hardtop Landau (bottom), convertible and sports roadster — combine distinctive styling with hundreds of engineering refinements that make them the highest quality cars ever produced by Ford Division. Maintenance requirements on the 1963 Thunderbird are drastically reduced, with a chassis that requires no major lubrication for 100,000 miles. The new models have a new vertical-bar grille and sporty new touches of interior luxury.

started the fall season Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Russell Shaw, of Jerome St. Mrs. Robert Hart, president, had charge of the business meeting.

Mrs. Ed Kauffman, Mrs. C. O. Armstrong and Mrs. Joe Bosel gave a report of a retreat held at Youngstown Sunday.

Mrs. Donald Loch had charge of the worship devotions, and Mrs. William Kessler and Mrs. Kauffman the program.

Mrs. Tom Yarwood and Mrs. Donna Beiling of Salem assisted Mrs. Shaw.

Wednesday evening the by-laws committee of the First Christian Church and their families had a chicken dinner at the Morgan House. There were 18 seated.

The by-laws compiled by the committee were unanimously accepted by the congregation at the morning service last Sunday. Dallas Clapsdale was chairman of the committee which included Don McClintock, Bruce Kessler, Mrs. Paul Eells, Mrs. E. Ray Alexander, Mrs. Lydia Randolph and Harold Hiscox, who is chairman of the church board.

ABOUT 500 SPORTSMEN and their families attended the coon water race Sunday at Triton Lake, Lisbon.

The race, the first sponsored by the Lisbon Coon Club, was won by James Musclemann of Wooster. His dog won 6 heat finals and first and second line finals and one tree final.

William Welsh of E. Lincoln Way is president of the Lisbon club; Joe DeVille of Elkton Road is vice president and Harley Huffman of Guilford Road, secretary-treasurer.

The teachers and officers of the First Christian Church of Lisbon met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Goldie Carlisle of Lower Elkton Road. Plans for the promotion and rally day were discussed. Mrs. Richard Walton, assistant superintendent of the Sunday School, had charge of the meeting.

The Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Jack Douglas of E. High St. Mrs. Frank Steele of Vine St. will entertain the club Sept. 24.

The Home and Garden Study Club was entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert A. Williams, Roller Coaster Road.

A demonstration of low flower arrangements was explained by Mrs. Vincent Judge.

On Oct. 9, Miss Clara McGee of E. Chestnut St. will entertain the club.

They are now at home on Valley Road.

They were honored Monday evening at their home when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denny and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bardo, were guests at a wiener roast.

Members of the Mabel Barss Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Donald Brunner for a pledge service Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Mincks spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. William Wagner of Lowell, and visited other relatives in Marietta.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hileman entertained at a picnic supper Monday. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Gale Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bardo, Mr. and Mrs. James Griffith of RD 1, Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Bren Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Griffith, Mr.

and Mrs. Gerald Steer of Damascus and Richard Hitchcock of Cleveland. Visiting and music were the main features of the evening.
